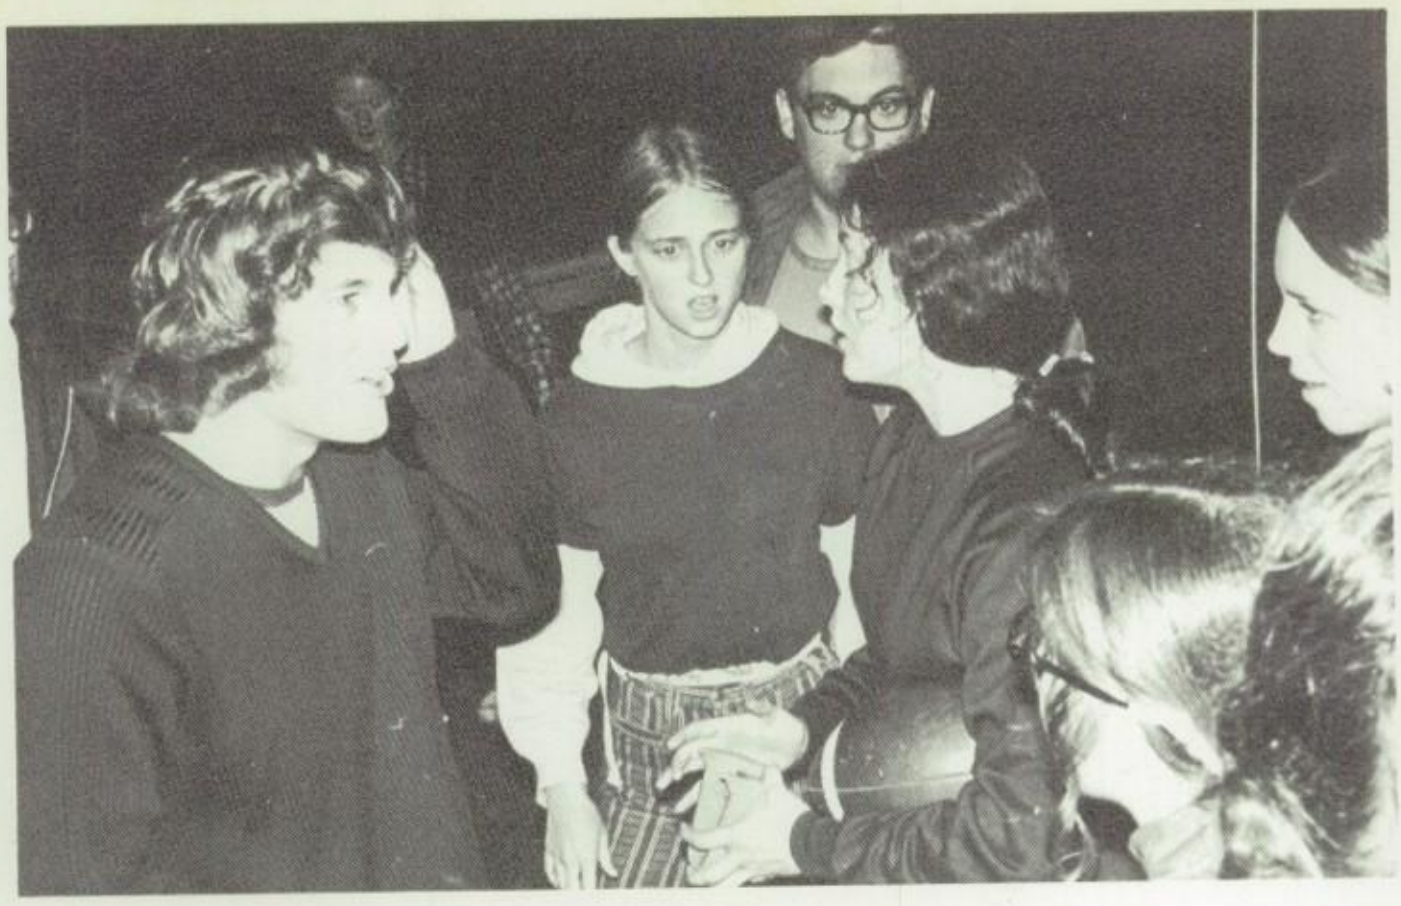
STUDENT LIFE

"All right! We did it!"



"Now don't forget our secret play. Terry? Terry, are you listening to me?"

P.P. — The Agony and the Ecstasy

In the third annual Powder Puff football game, the Seniors battled their way to victory against a determined Junior team but lost to a vicious horde of mosquitos. The game was close, all scoring being done in the last half. The Juniors scored first when LeeAnn Berning make a 60-yard touchdown run. Vicky Novak scored 6 much needed points for the Seniors on a quarterback sneak. Senior Brenda Whitney made the score 7-6 with a conversion play. Evenly matched teams allowed no further scoring. At the end of the contest both teams had at least one thing in common: bruises.

"That's what you get for wearing Hai Karate, Brenda!"

"Now listen here, what I say goes."

"We got 'em right where we want 'em."

"Oh no! They can't do that to us!"

Mark Druhot glides to victory.

Pies and Tricycles Give Life to Homecoming Celebration

Homecoming festivities began this year with the annual Trike Race. Student body fans cheered their approval as Mark Druhot crossed the finish line to victory in the singles event. Good teamwork and perfect timing won the relay event for Steve Dent, Vern Koehlinger, Mike Soest, and Tom Wesche. Halftime fun for Powder Puff fans featured a new event: the Pie-Eating Contest. Contestants eagerly dug into the pies, and minutes later Gary Smith emerged, full of pie but triumphant. Even the losers were winners as the rest of the pies quickly disappeared.

Mike Soest just manages to fit on.

The Pie-Eating Contest wasn't confined solely to eating.

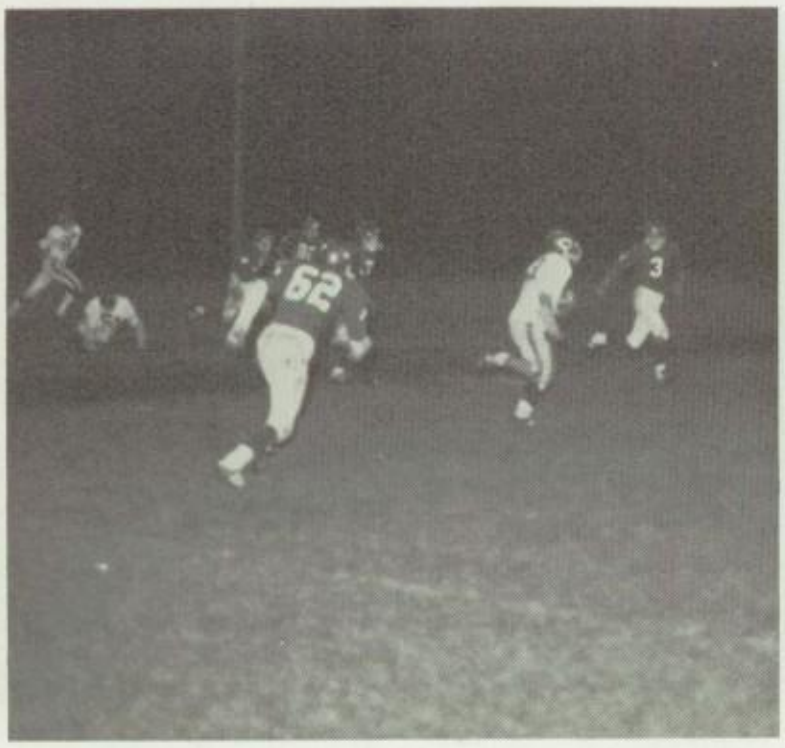
1972 Homecoming Best Ever With 40-0 Cadet Victory

Homecoming fans developed a victory spirit with a pregame bonfire before cheering the Cadets on to a 40-0 victory over Bluffton. At halftime Seniors produced the winning float. Radiant Becky Gentile was crowned by last year's queen, Debbie K. Smith, at the Homecoming Dance. The court members were Seniors Sandy Scheumann and Donna Zettelmeier, and Juniors Bonnie Kruse and Barb Meyer. Music was provided by Hoy Polloy and Alligator Thrills.

A blazing outhouse completes any Homecoming.



Once again the class of '73 had the prize winning float.

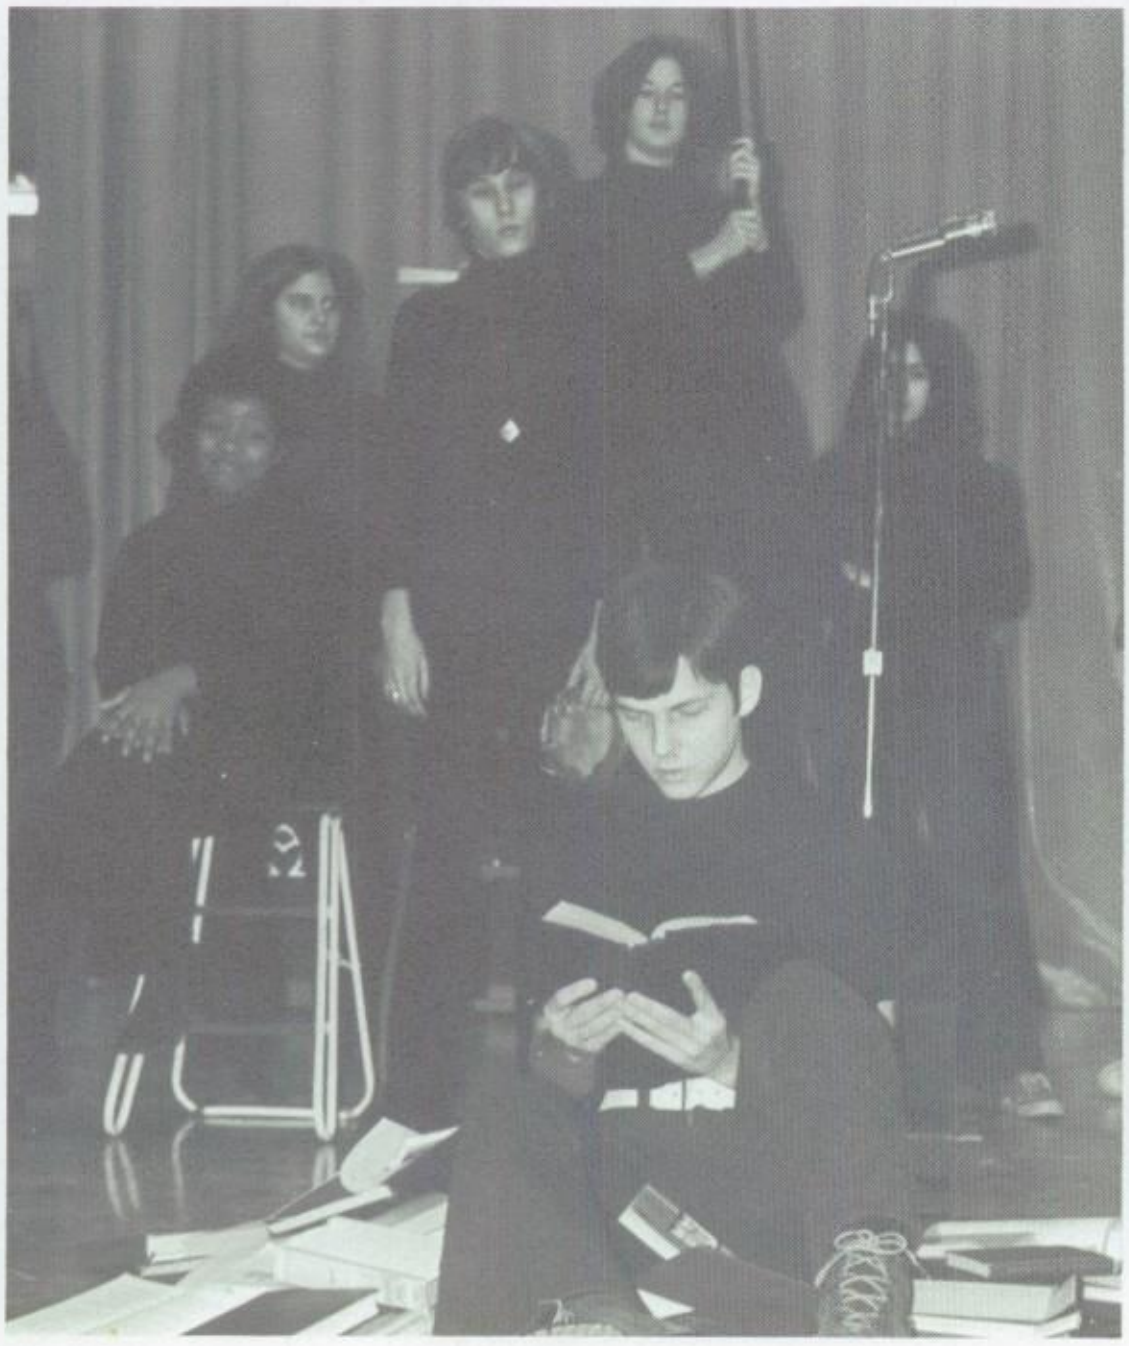
CELEBRATE



"Write Me a Murder" And "Harvey" Smashing Success

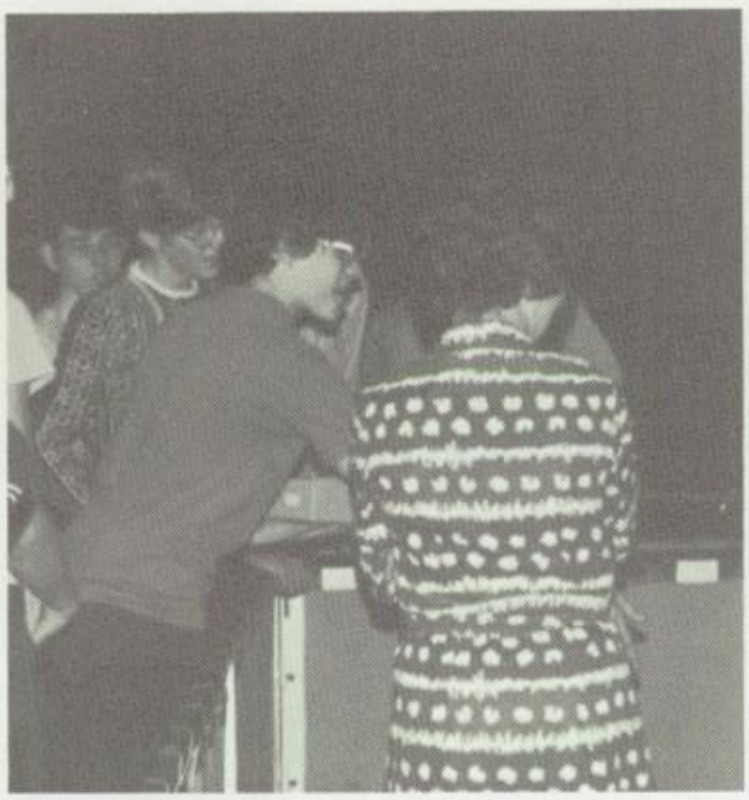
Concordia's Drama Department sparkled with an overflow of talent this year. Cadets watched, captivated as the actors made the characters live. The fall play, "Harvey," was the story of an eccentric man whose best friend was a six-foot-tall white rabbit. "Who done it?" was the question asked in "Write Me A Murder," a murder mystery complete with authentic British accents. Both plays were high quality with a dash of fun for flavor.

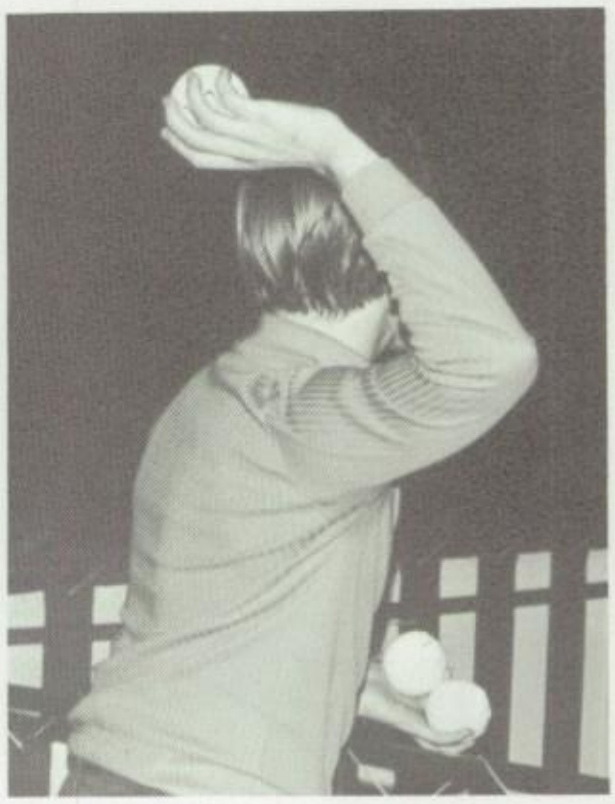
Toy Box Brings Cheer Into Children's Hearts

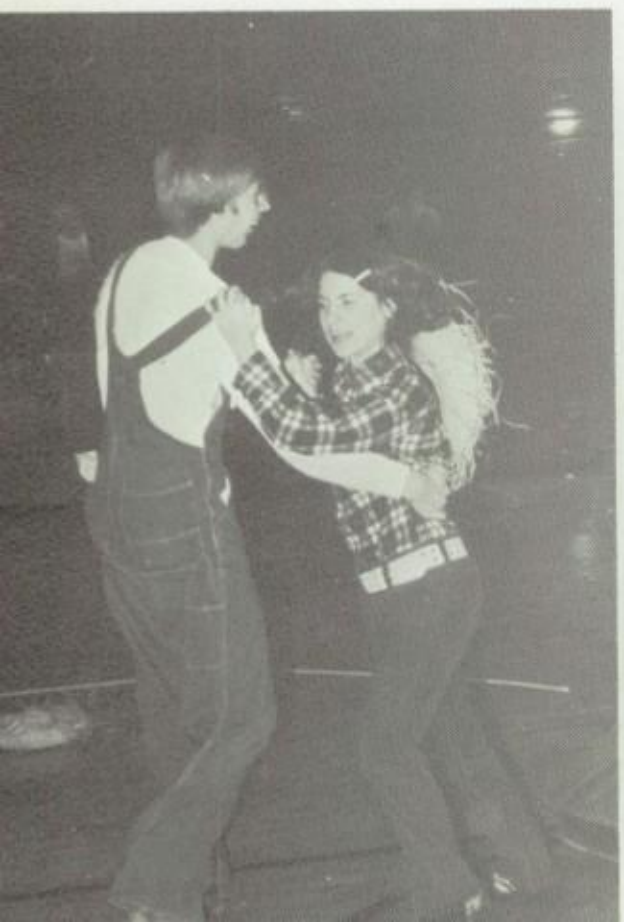
What brought smiles of delight to children's faces? The Toy Box Theater! Creating a magical fantasyland of talking insects and cats that wore boots, this year's Toy Box worked hard and long for those few precious moments of sunshine and laughter. But Toy Box wasn't all work and no play as many Cadets can testify. No one objected to getting out of classes to perform. Toy Box presented two plays, "Once Upon a Clothesline" and "Puss In Boots," to children in hospitals, orphanages, and grade schools. But Toy Box wasn't just for children — it was for everyone!

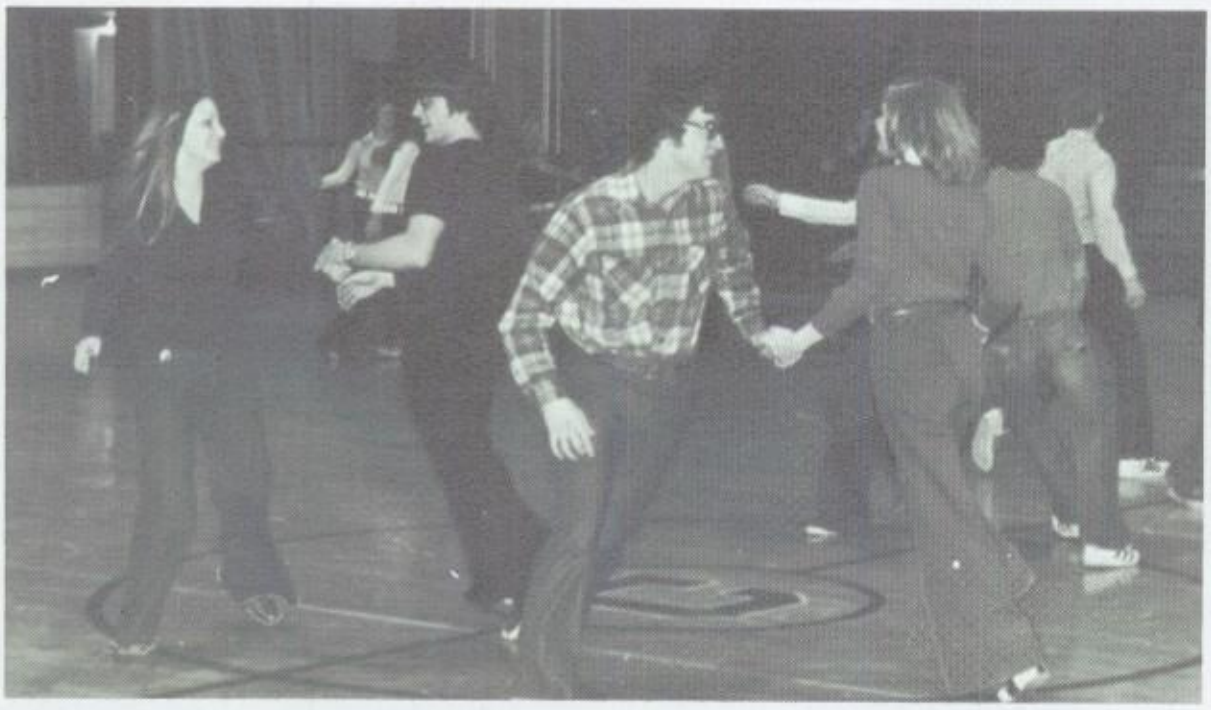
Square Dance Craze Hits Concordia Dances

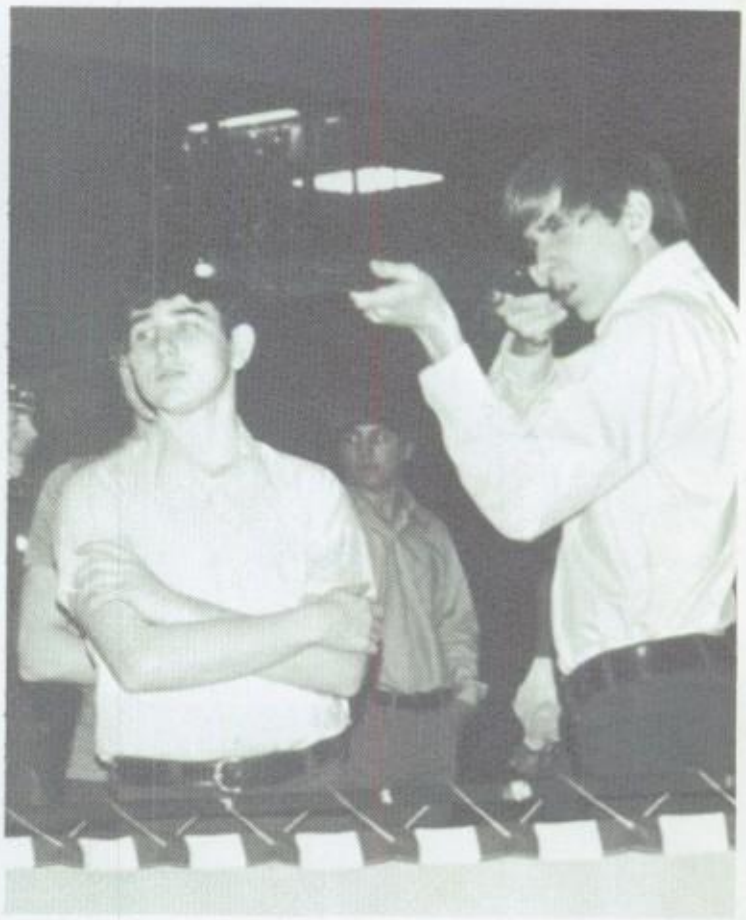
Dance to the music! The Cadets did just that at the monthly sock hops. But there was something different about some of Concordia's dances this year. Instead of a rock band; there was a real live square-dance caller! Concordians discovered a whole new world of fun in square-dancing. With square-dances, carnivals and sock hops, there was something for everyone!

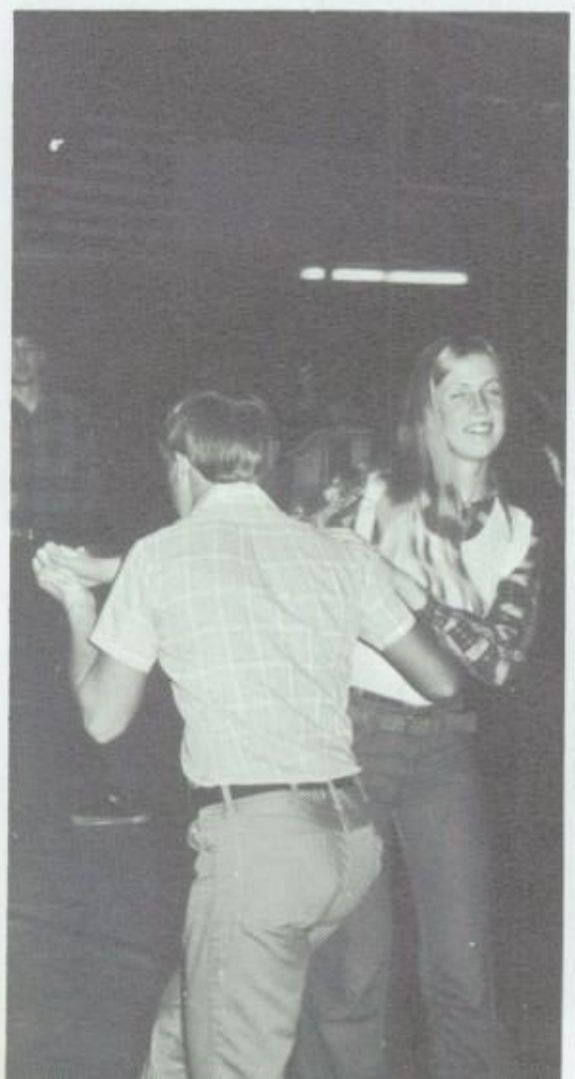


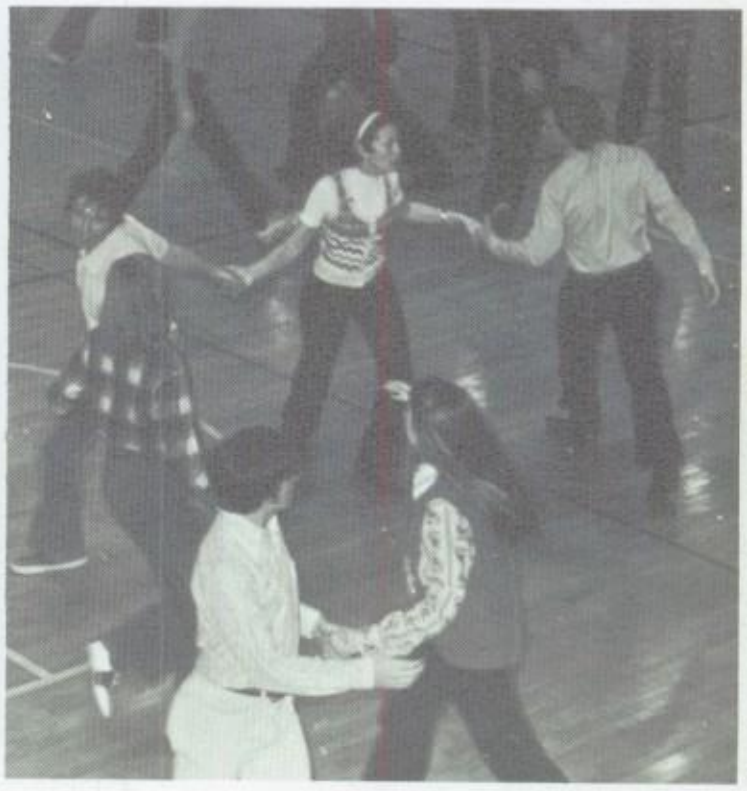












An expanded Discovery Week offered CLHS students a wide variety of educational experiences this year. The five-day program was kicked off with the performances of Barefoot in the Park and Antigone by the National Theater Company. This was followed by four ½-day sessions in which students could attend various presentations by members of the surrounding community. These presentations involved topics that interested students but could not be covered in the normal curriculum. Tours to areas of student concern, such as a hospital, a farm, a factory, etc., were also included for the first time this year, offering students first hand information.

To live life to its fullest one must 'scape
From shackles wrought by man, must free oneself
Of dark despair that spreads o'er all a cape
Unlimited; must learn to be himself.
But if the free soul dares forget the man
Still captive held, his newfound liberty
Shall him forsake, and the gentle moon shall wane
To see how man forgets God easily.
For love unlocks the iron chains that bind,
And caring ever keeps despair at bay.
Indifference, not hate, will soonest 'twine
A man in bonds again. The only way
The soul can be forever soaring free
Is with its Lord in perfect harmony.

Linda Fox

What's in a mouth?
Two lips, a tongue, 32 teeth
32 cavities (if you don't use Crest);
Out of the mouth come
Dirty jokes, ugly curses
Bad breath, lousy food,
Little fibs or downright lies,
Injuring insults, apathetic cries;
The mouth always cuts down
But seldom builds up.
Listerine can wash away bad breath,
but something much stronger is needed
to clean deep down:
Letting Christ into your life
Once in the morning — every morning
Is the best mouthwash on the market.
From the mouth will pour
A song of joy, a note of peace,
A sincere "thanks" shared with the world,
A welcoming smile, a message of love,
A pure thought, a prayer of hope;
The mouth can merely function,
Or be a messenger of destruction,
Or a blessing.
Choose to use, not abuse
Your mouth.

If God were as visible
As you are right now
No doubts would crowd my mind
No pain would be forced
From behind a locked door.
But God is not visible.
The love that I should feel from Him
Has no weight or stability
The withered reflection
Imprinted before
Is not the love as when I was A child
And, if I should finally turn to it
For comfort or consolation
It would not be there.

I heard it through the grapevine
(as the saying often goes)
That money is the loathesome root
From which all evil grows.
The loneliness and sorrow
Desolation of this earth
Are all akin to money
Because money gave them birth.
Man is just an instrument
A tool of greed and shame
That money can manipulate
In every hate-filled game.
Yes, I heard it through the grapevine
Though I really cannot see
Why the blame is placed on money
When it shou'd be placed on me.

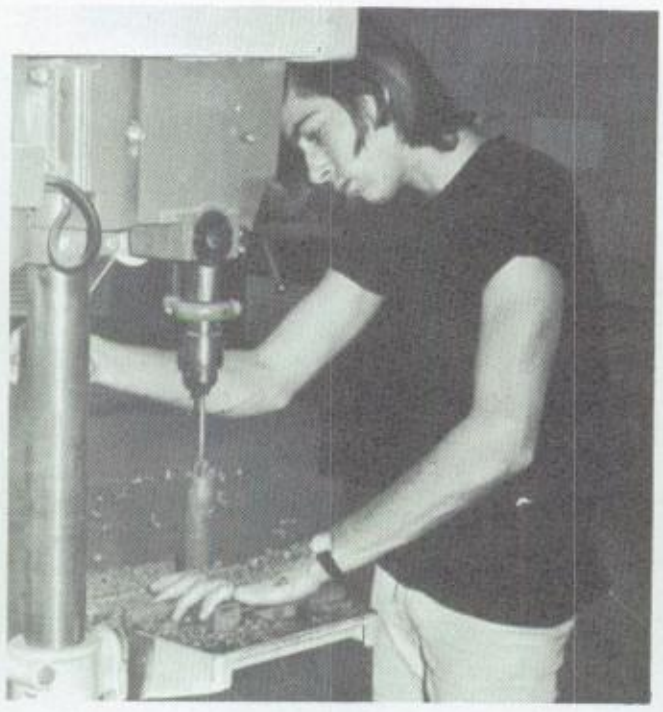
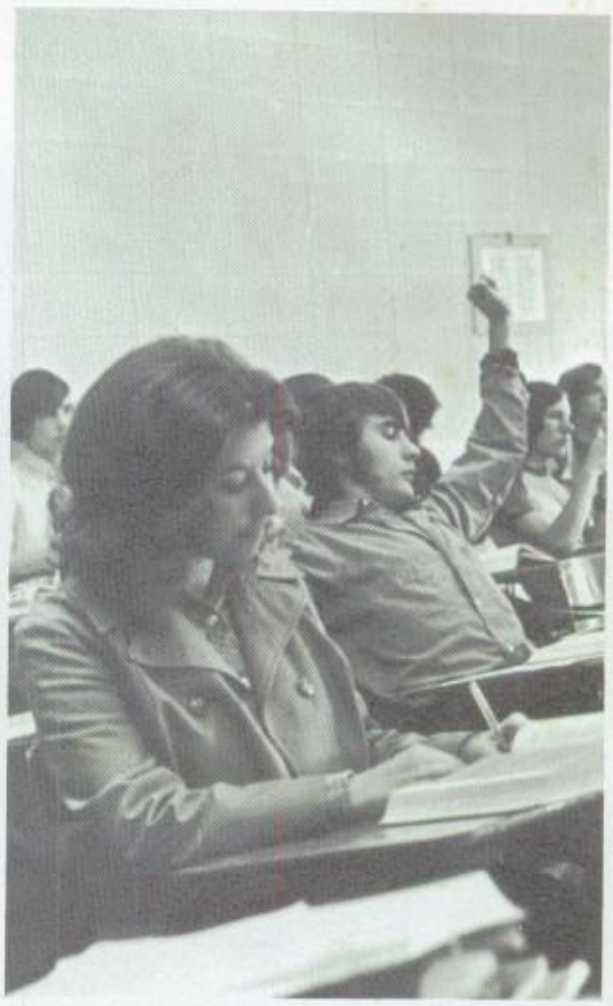
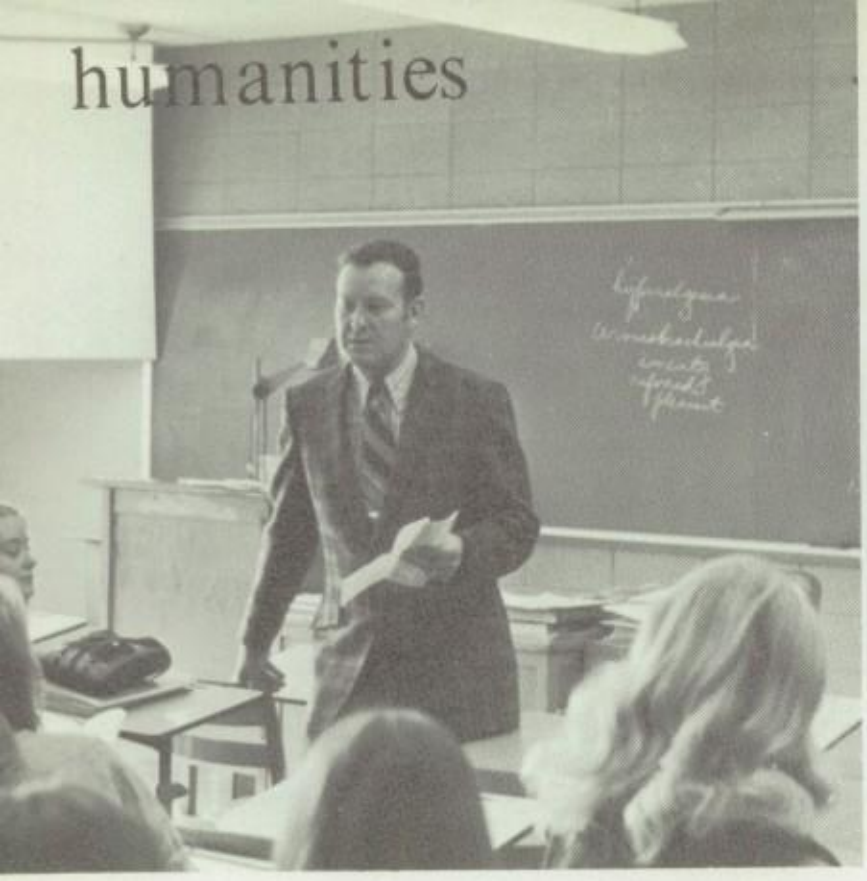
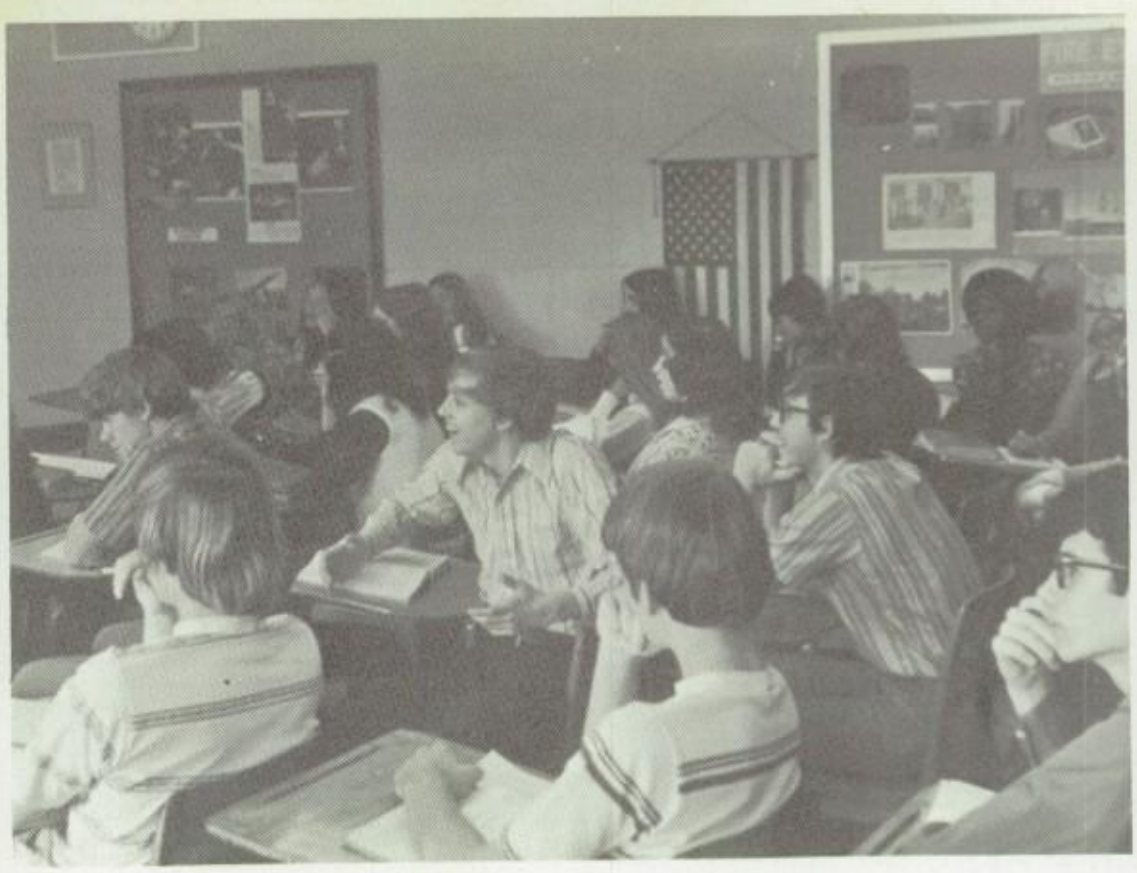
ACADEMICS



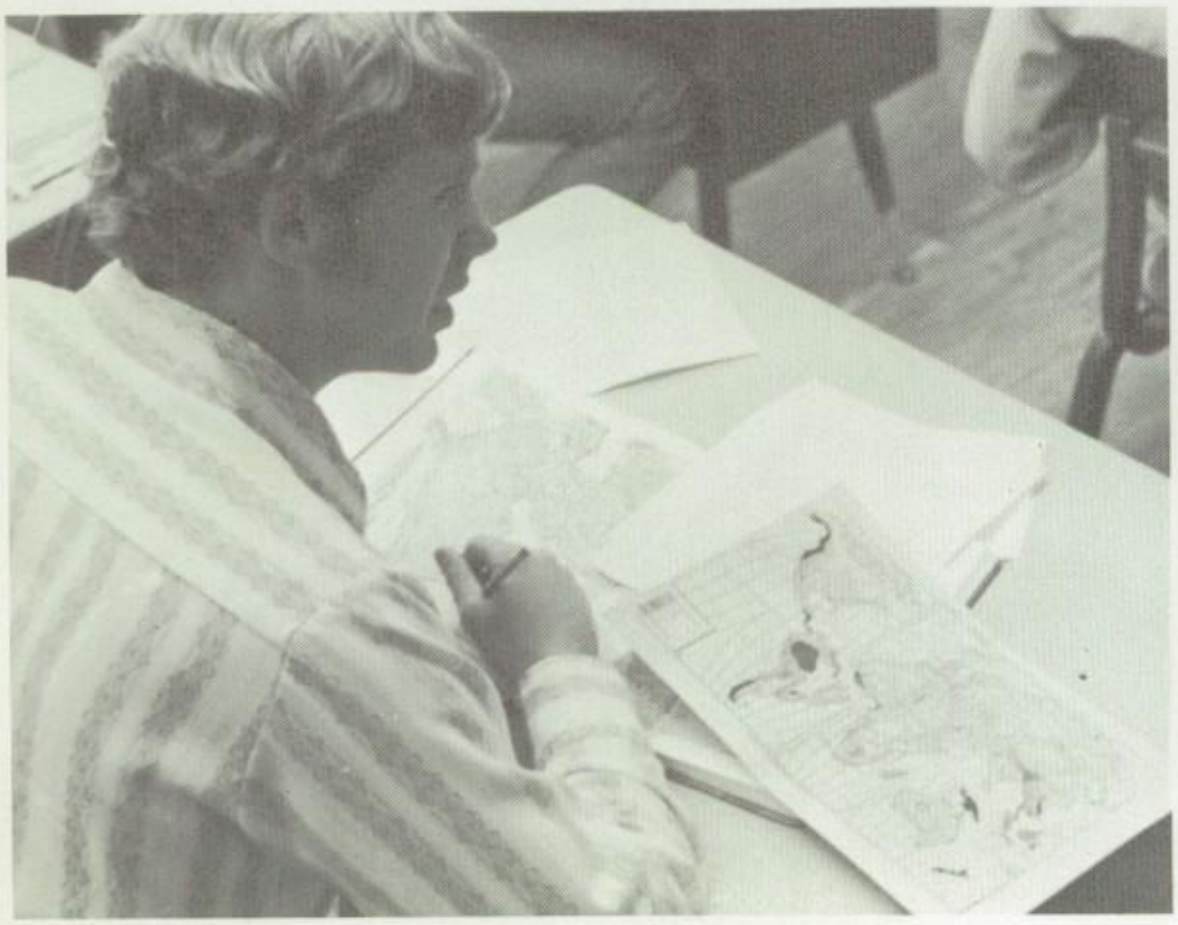




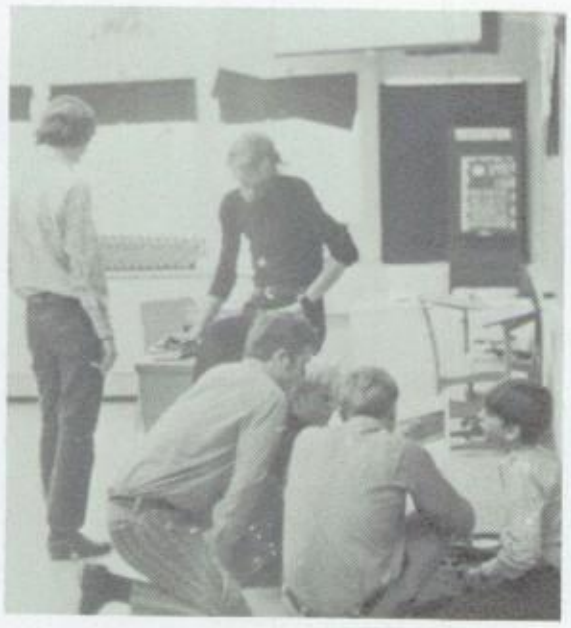


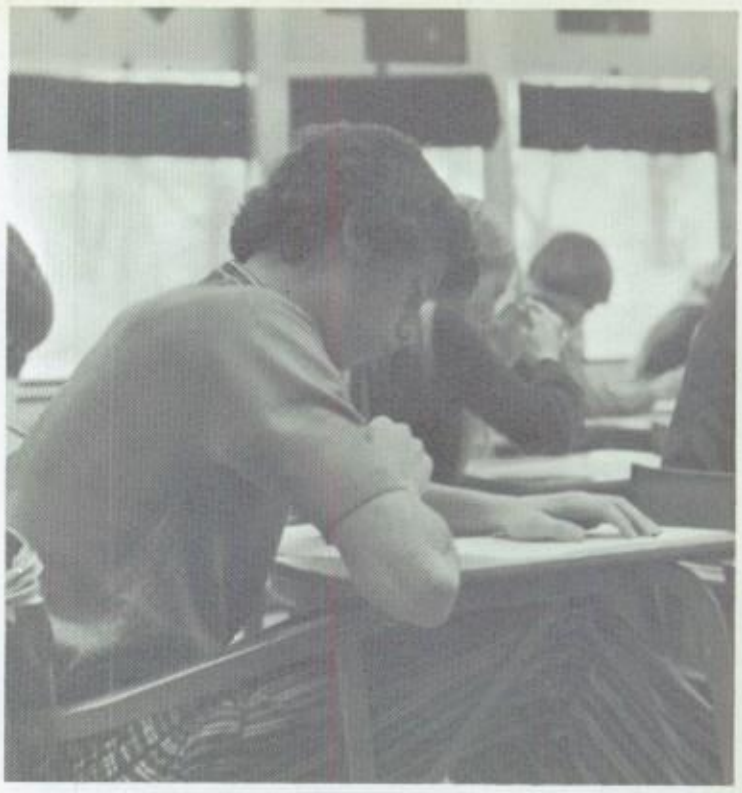
Social Studies Is People

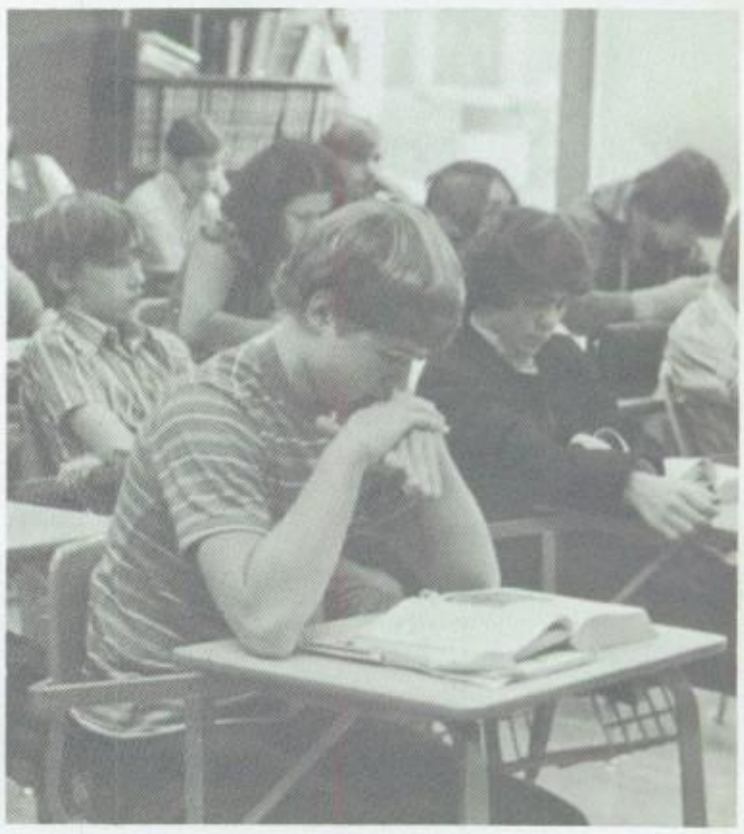
Social Studies is one of the most important and beneficial programs here at Concordia. The courses were aimed at helping students understand themselves and others. Courses in this broad program included studies of government, history, society, and geography. Students learned by reading contemporary literature, observing the world around them and asking questions. Teachers also provided interesting and helpful lectures and assignments to aid students in their quest for knowledge.



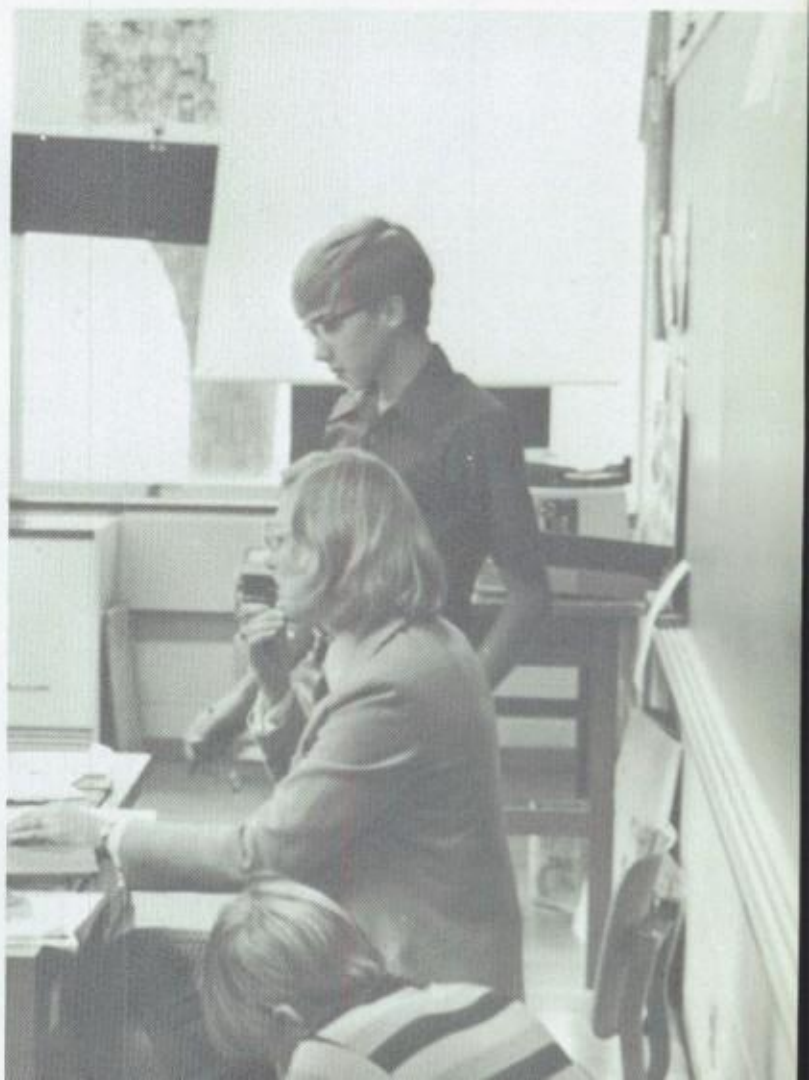
Communication through writing and speaking is the key to English. Courses such as speech and theater arts concentrated on the expression of ideas through speech and action. The rest of the English courses concentrated more on the written aspect although each course approached this topic differently. With such a variety of courses available, our English department is second to none!

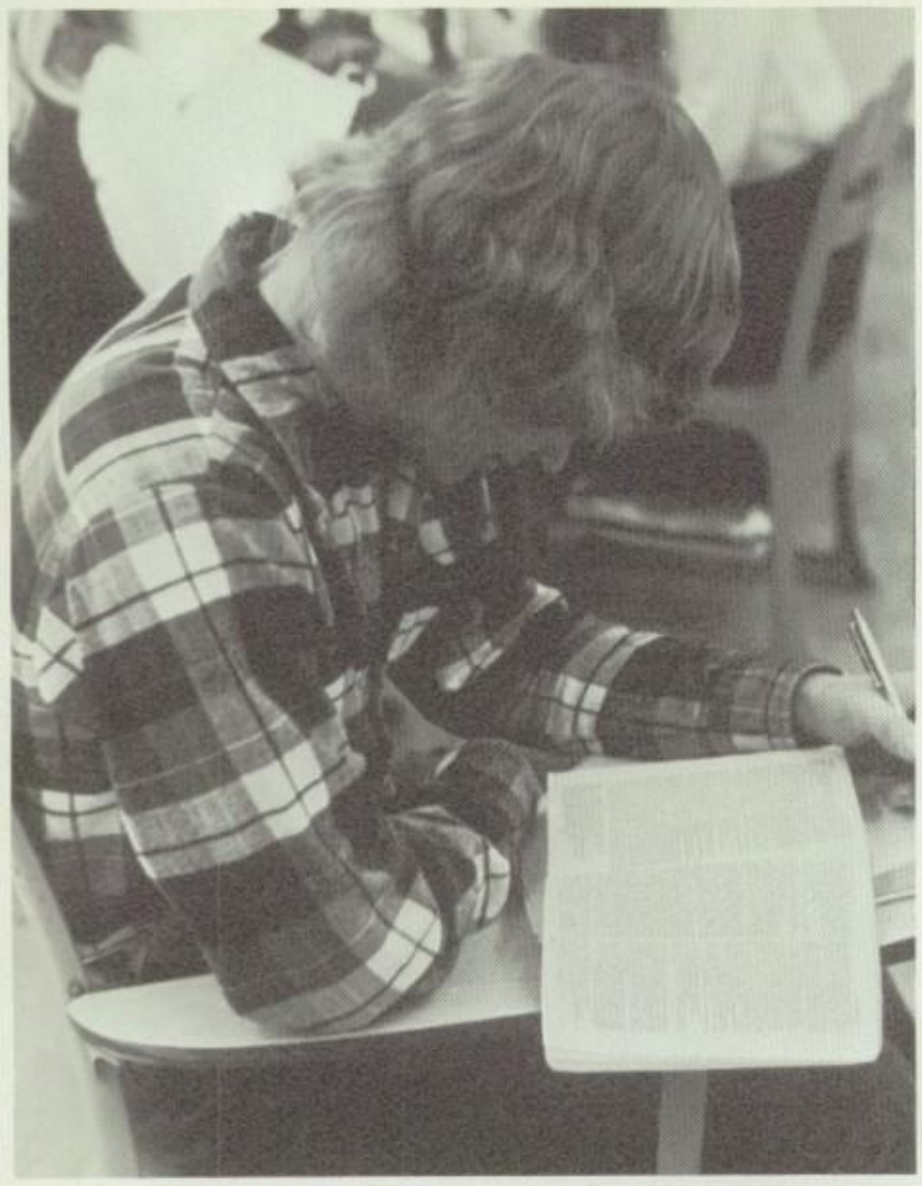




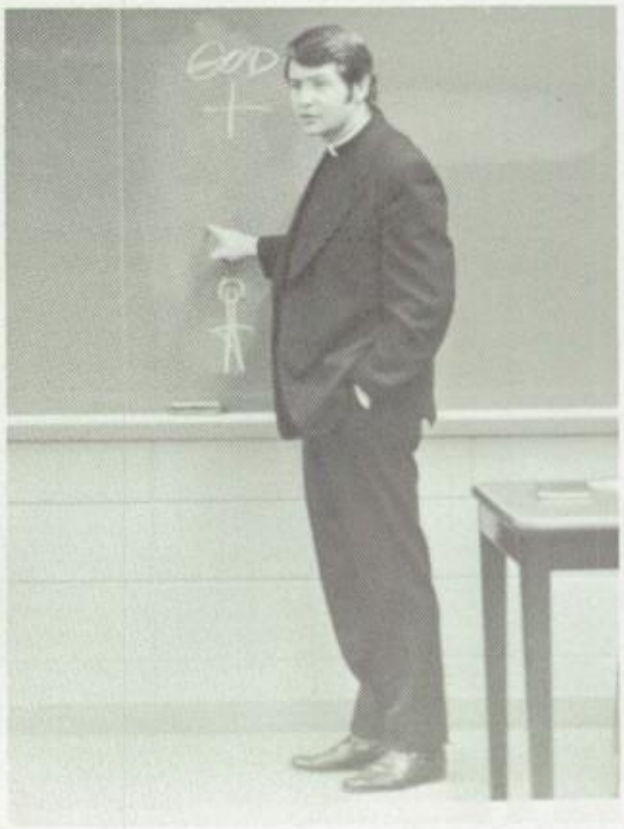


Progression in Self-Expression

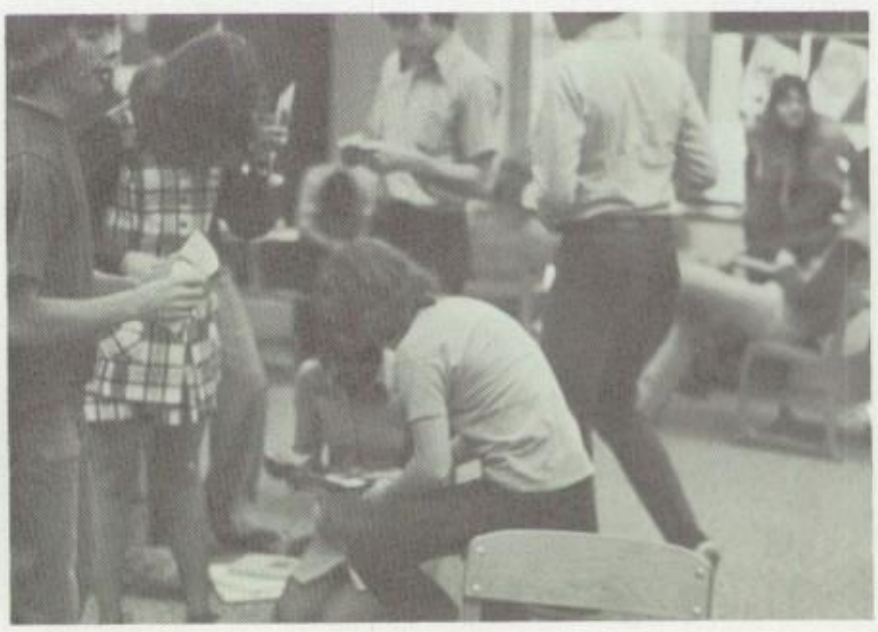


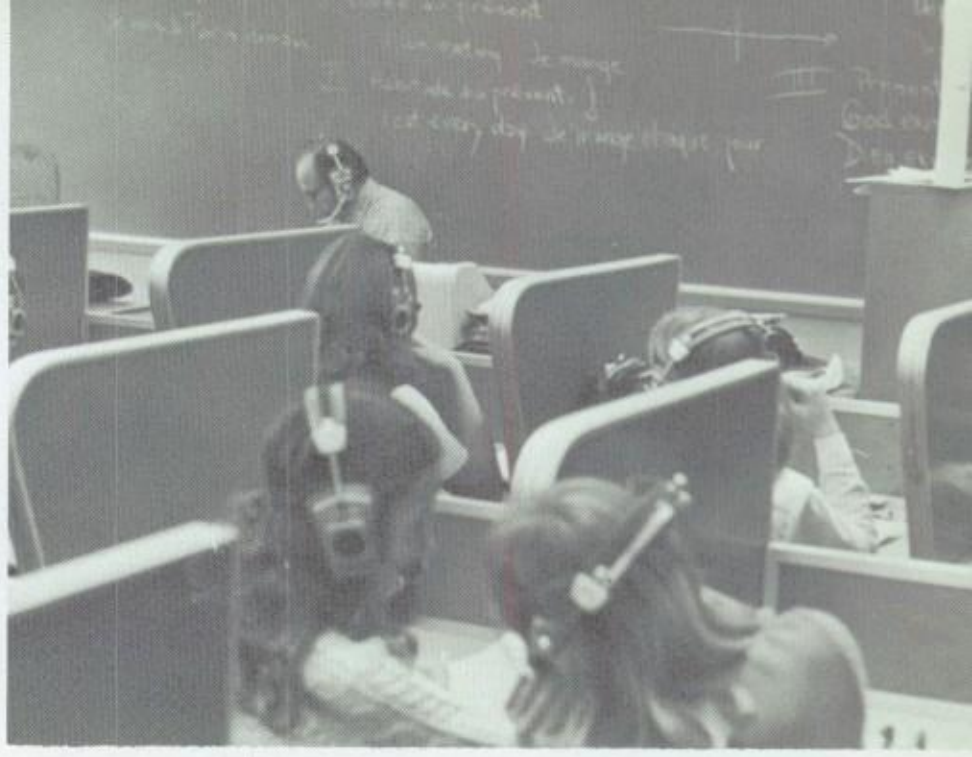


Religion is what it's all about here at Concordia. Students put their faith to work in the classroom as they studied their relationship to God in several ways. Films, speakers, and lively discussions made religion classes very interesting for students. Chapel services, both contemporary and traditional, provided food for thought for many Cadets while others preferred to talk to God in the solitude of the meditation chapel.

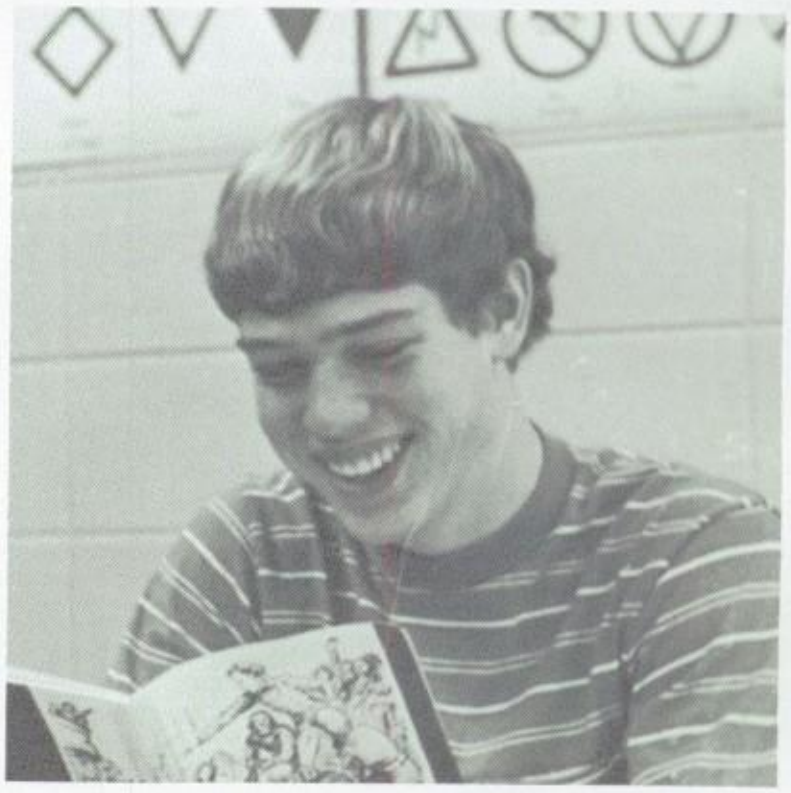


Religion Is a Feeling, Not a Class

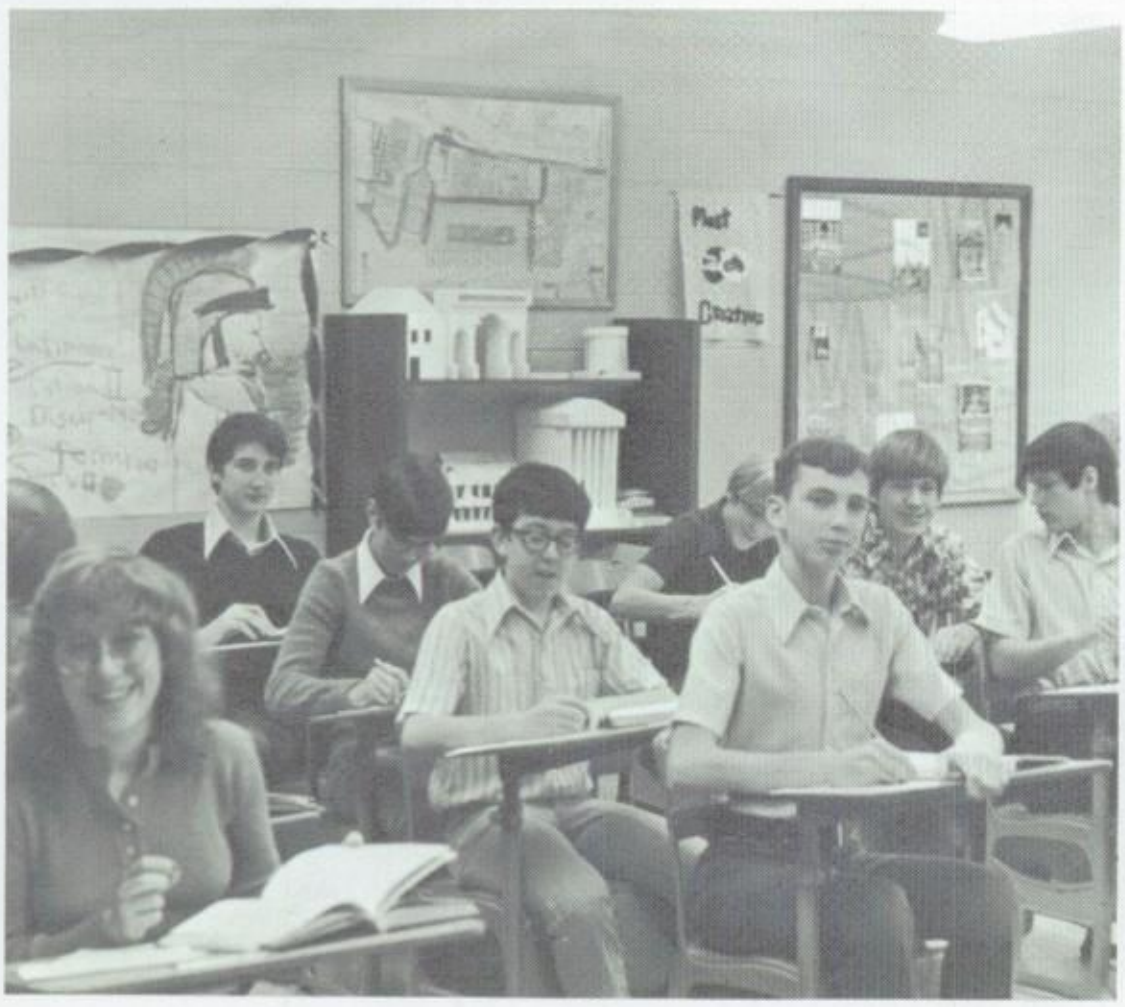




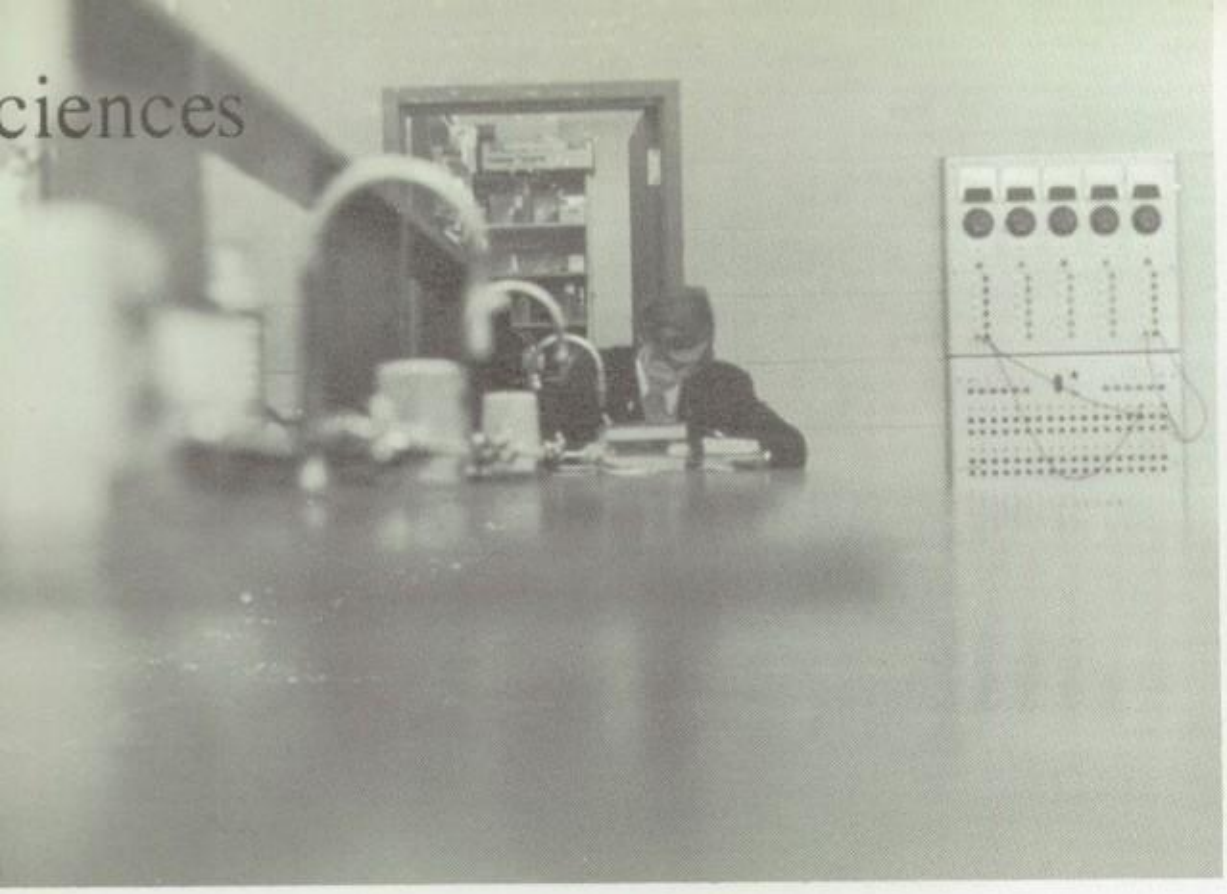
There is a quote in the German room which says, "Wer fremde Sprachen nicht kennt weiss nichts von seiner eigenen," meaning, "He who does not know a foreign language does not know himself." With the knowledge of another country's language and customs comes a greater understanding of one's own heritage. The Latin, German, and French scholars learned their languages by reading, writing, and using the language lab. The knowledge gained by these students will help them value their heritage as well as others'.



Languages Broaden Students' Minds

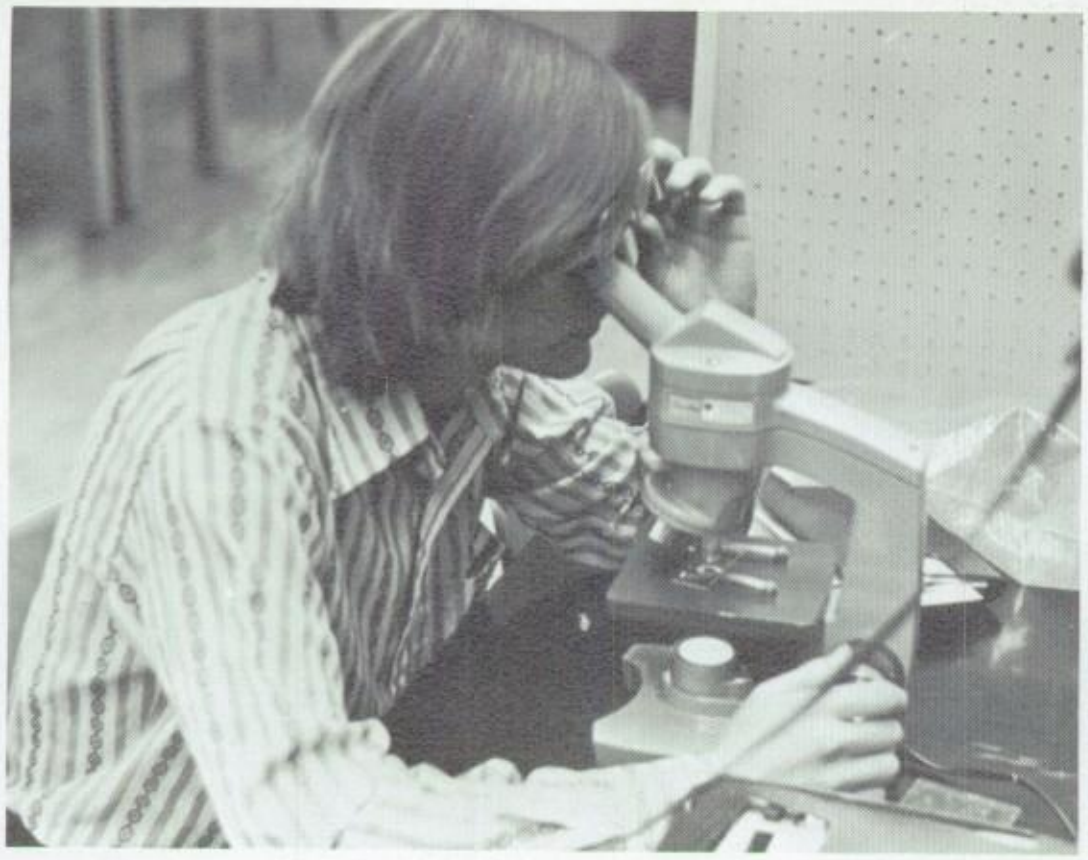


ciences

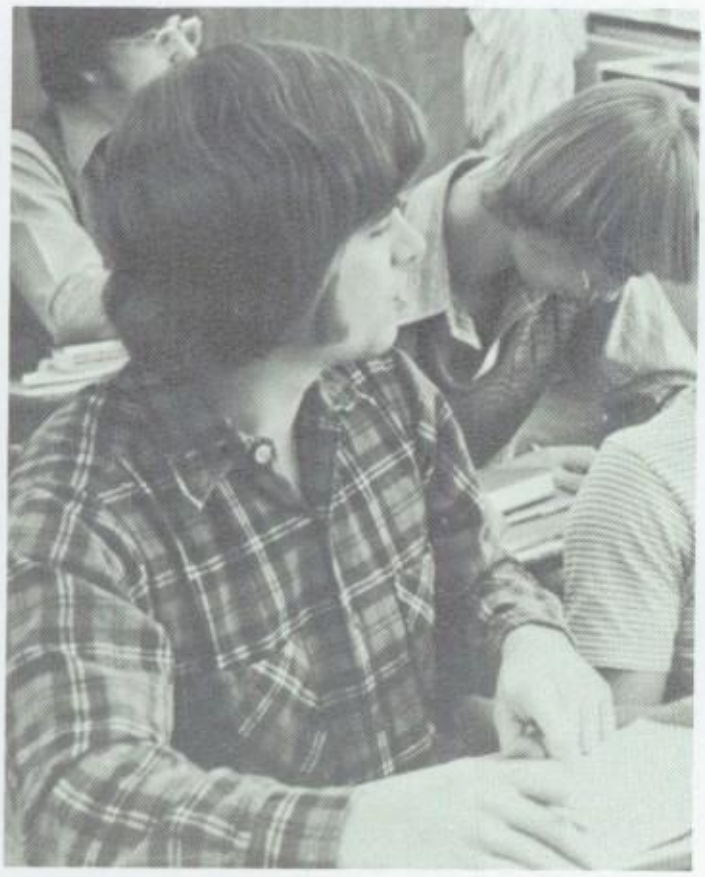


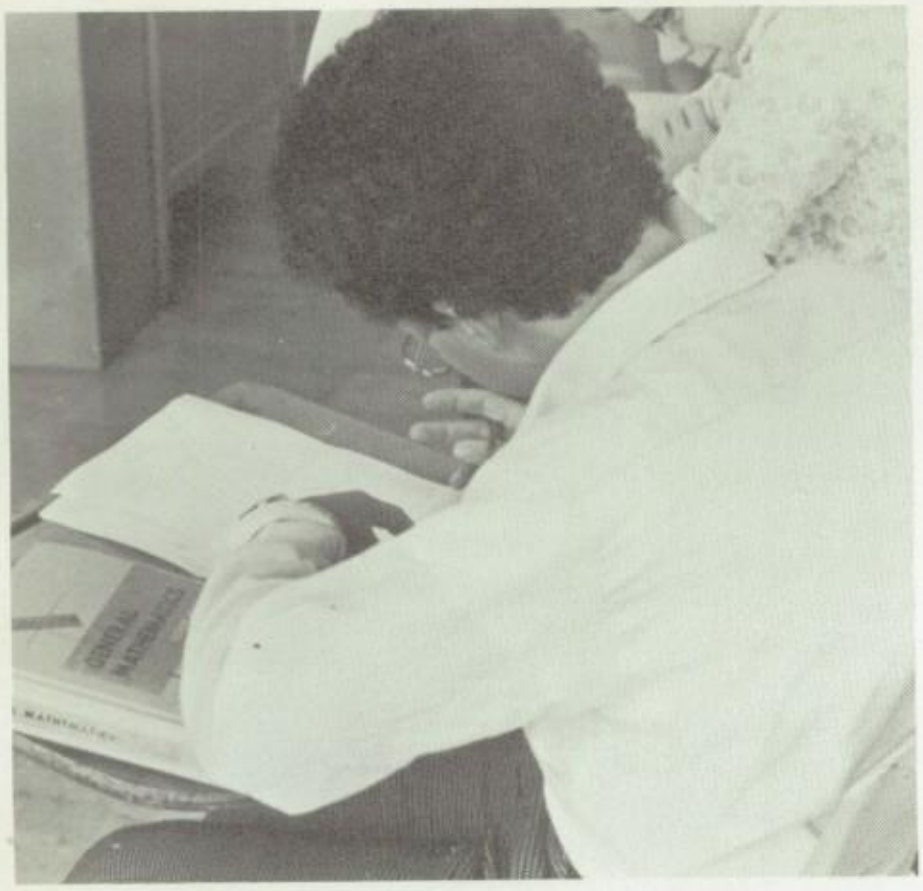
New and exciting worlds were opened to cadets this year through the science department. Students in the independent study plan of biology, chemistry, and advanced science discovered on their own the mysteries of God's world. Other courses were more suited to the conventional method of study. No matter what the study plan C.L.H.S. students were sure to learn.

Students Find DNA, Motion,



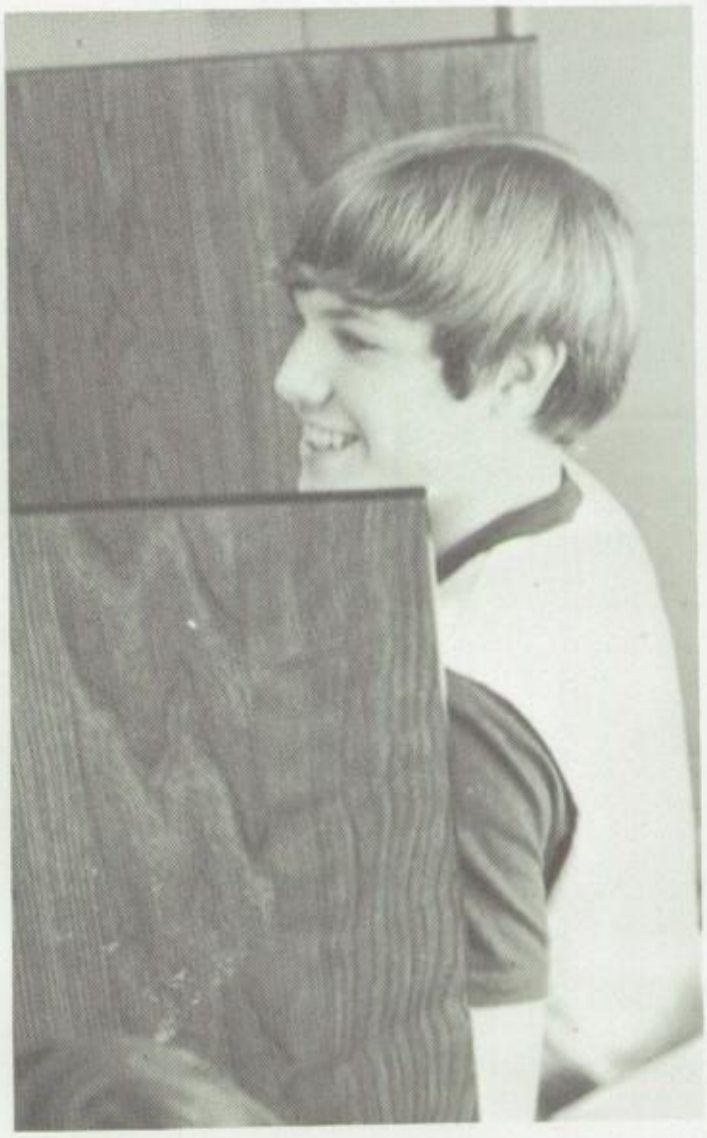
and Electrons Perplexing

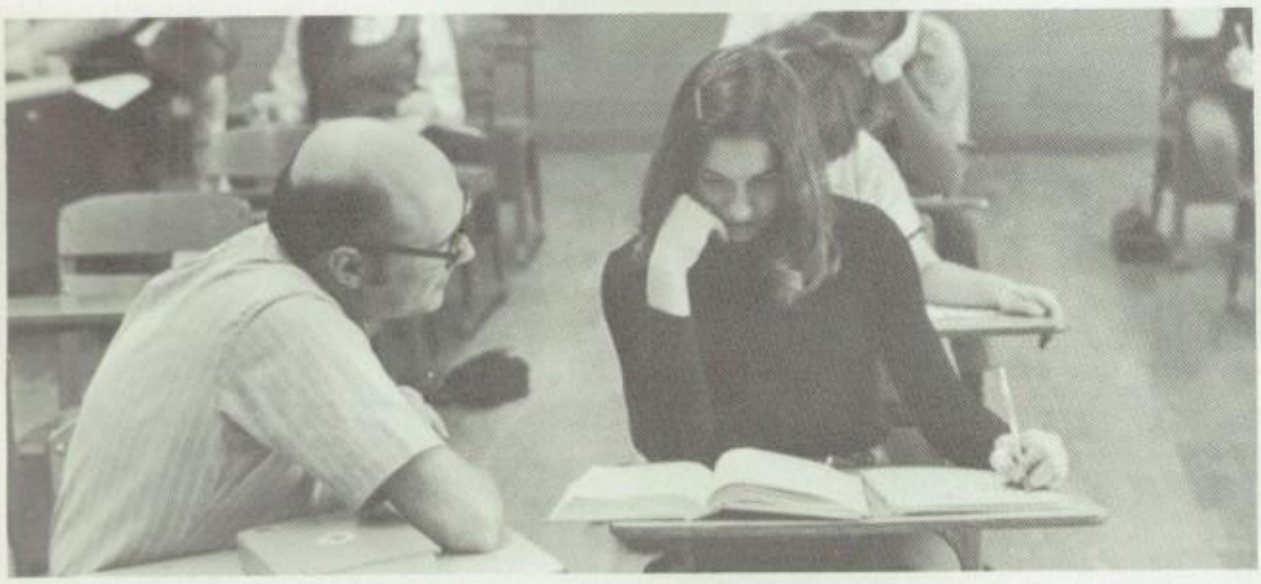


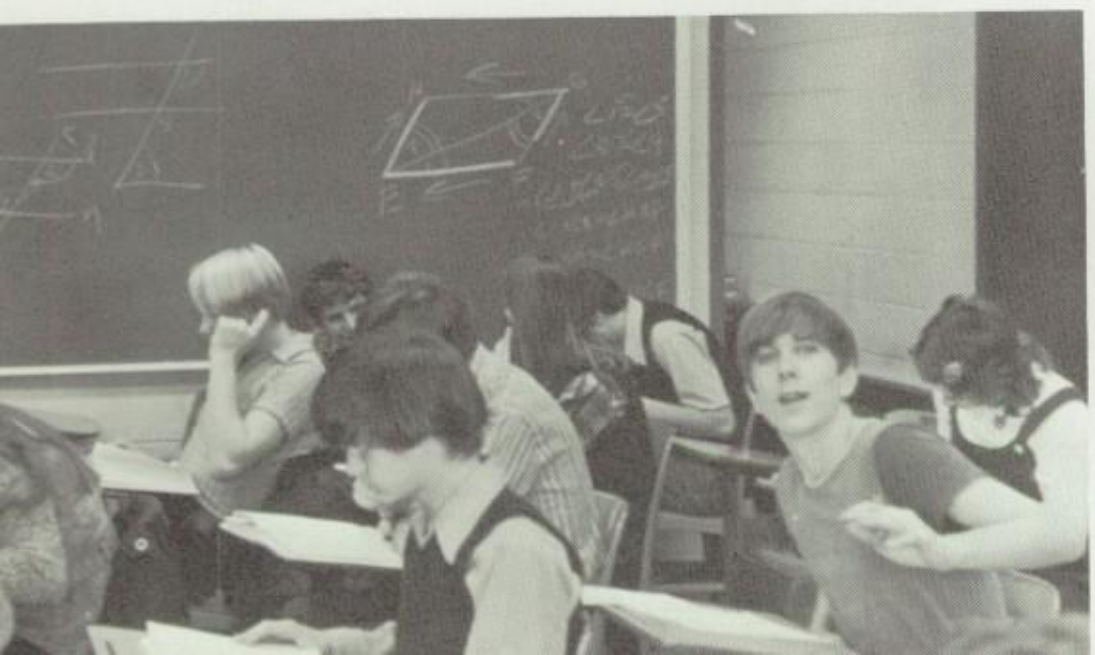


Seeds of Independence Take

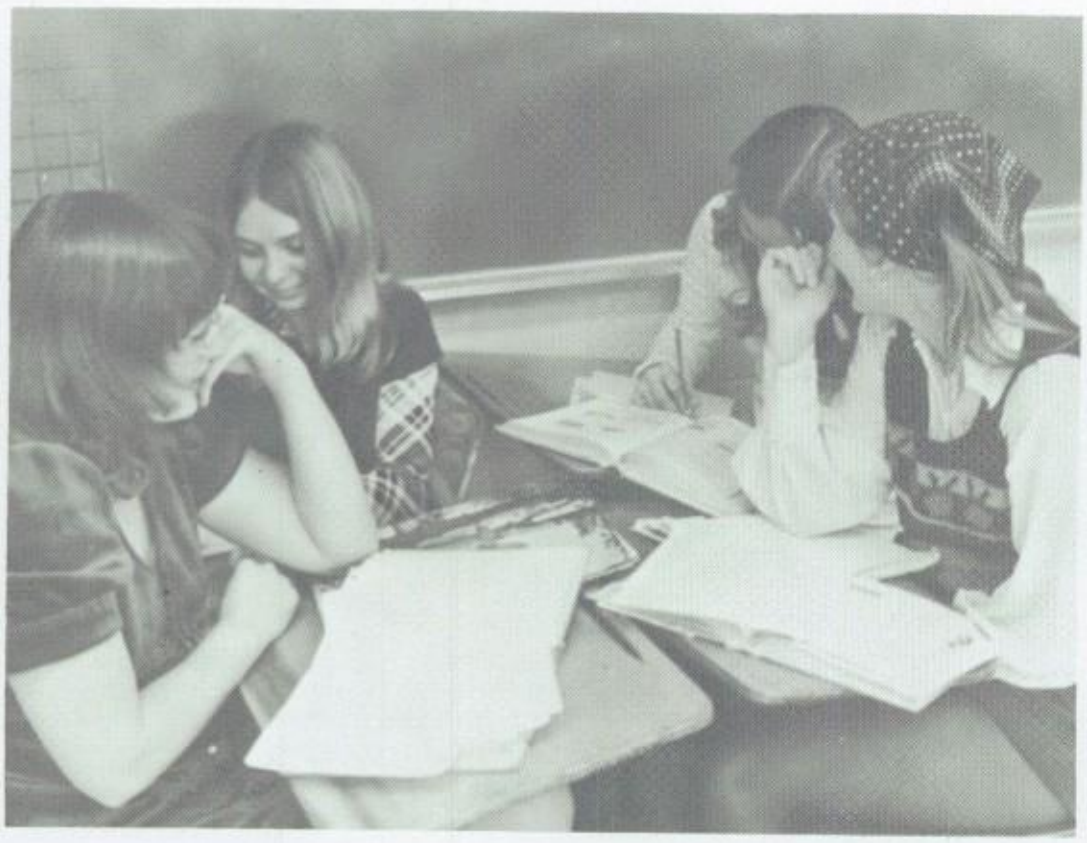
Math is a difficult but necessary ingredient of high school life. Since an independent study plan was available, students could forge ahead knowing they could ask a teacher for help. Whether studying parallel lines or struggling with parametric equations, students had to agree that math at Concordia is a real challenge.

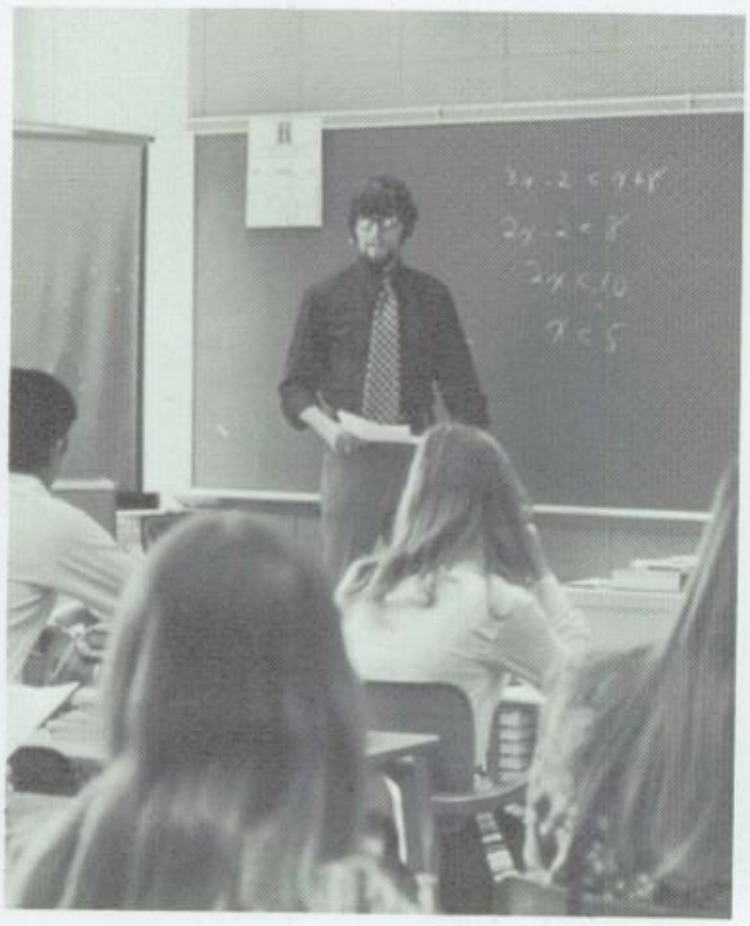


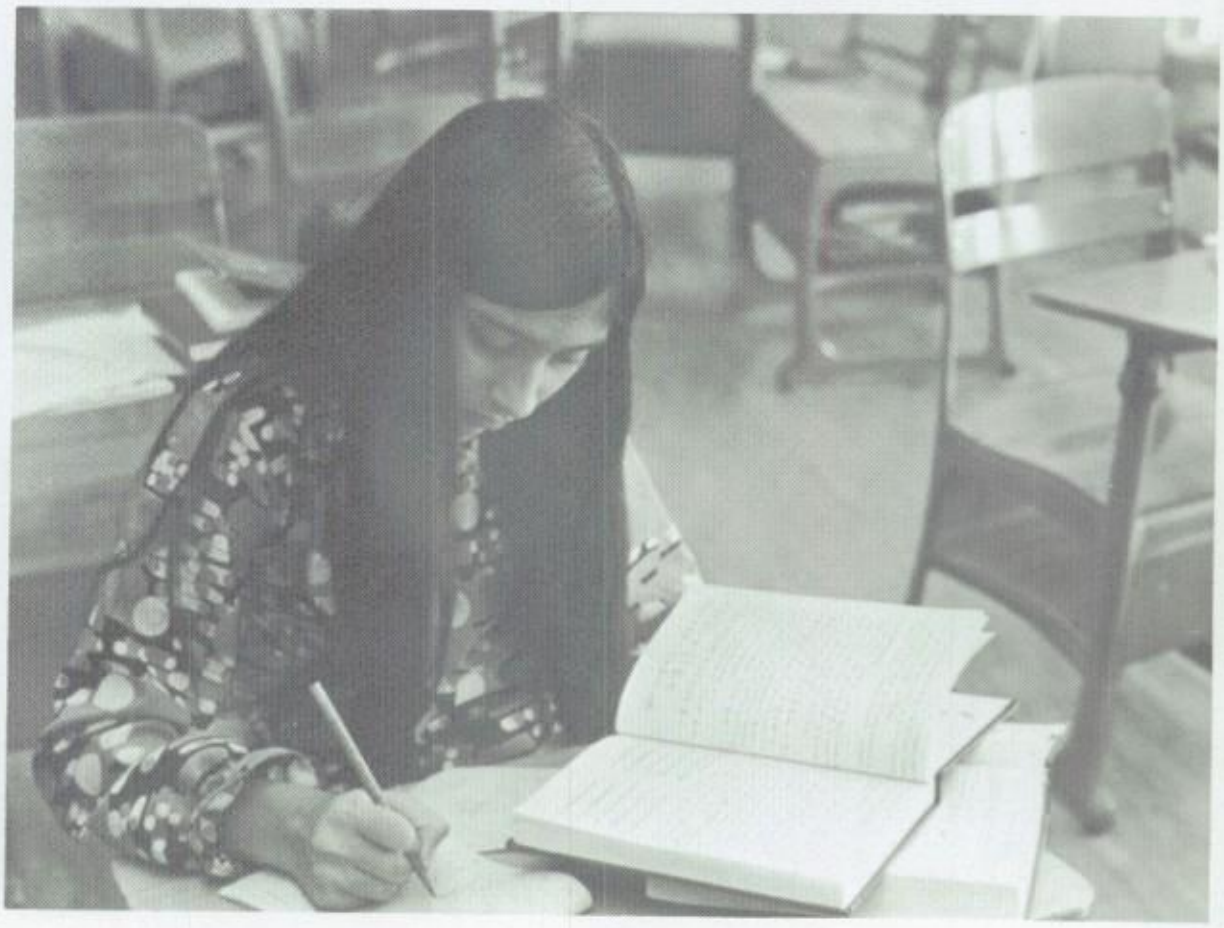




Root in Math Department

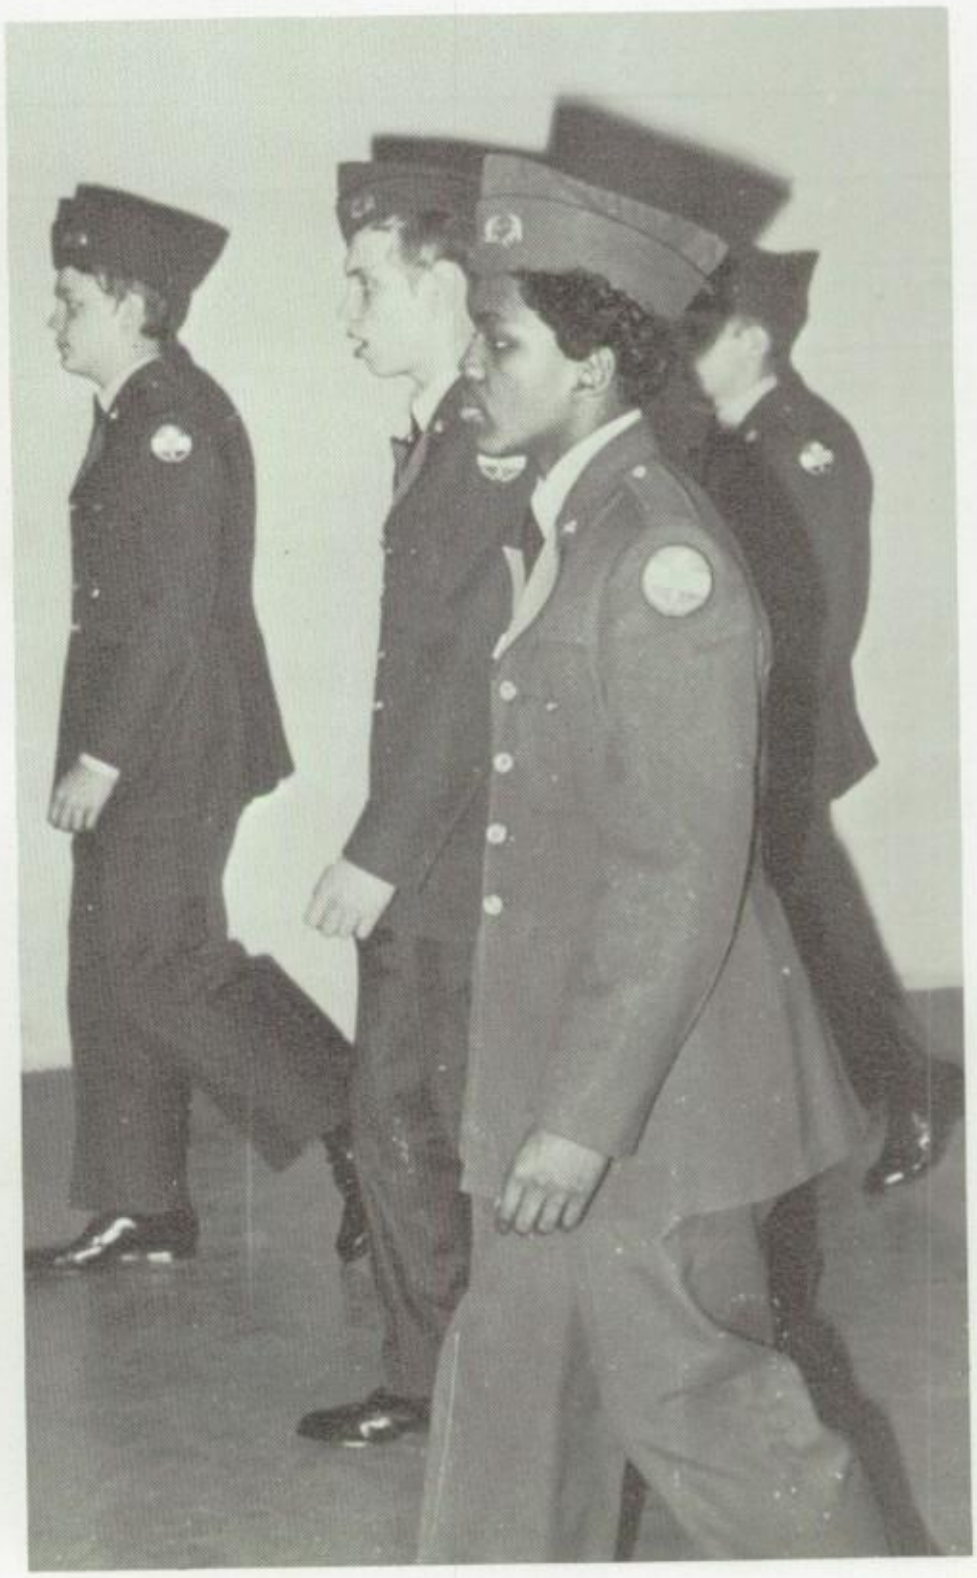


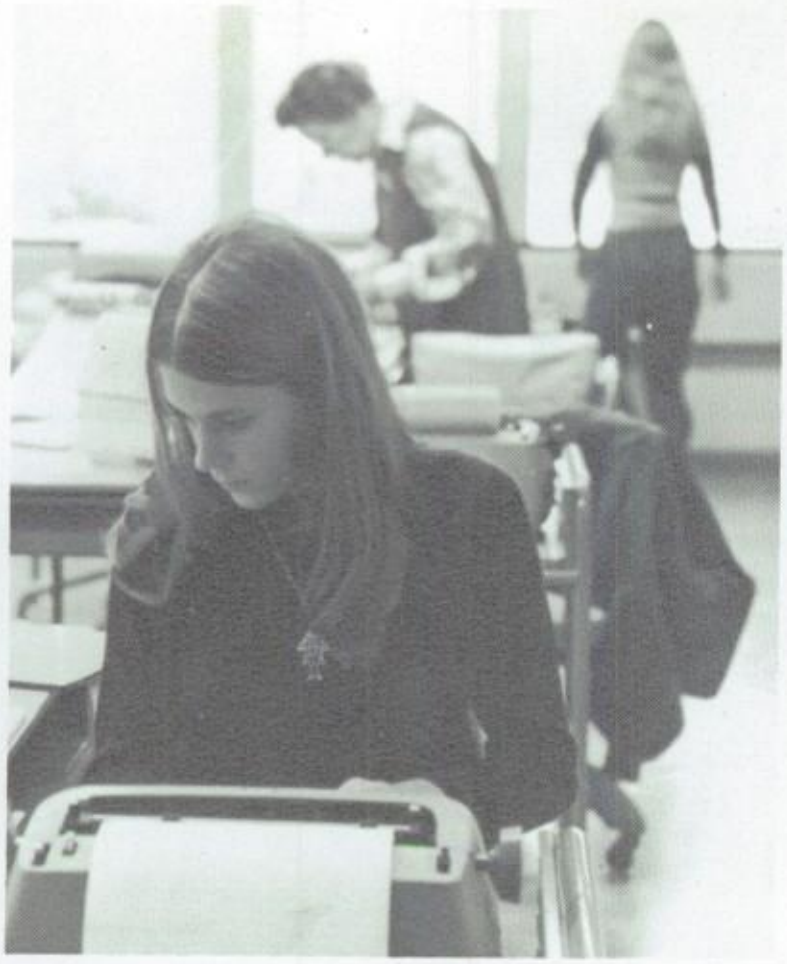




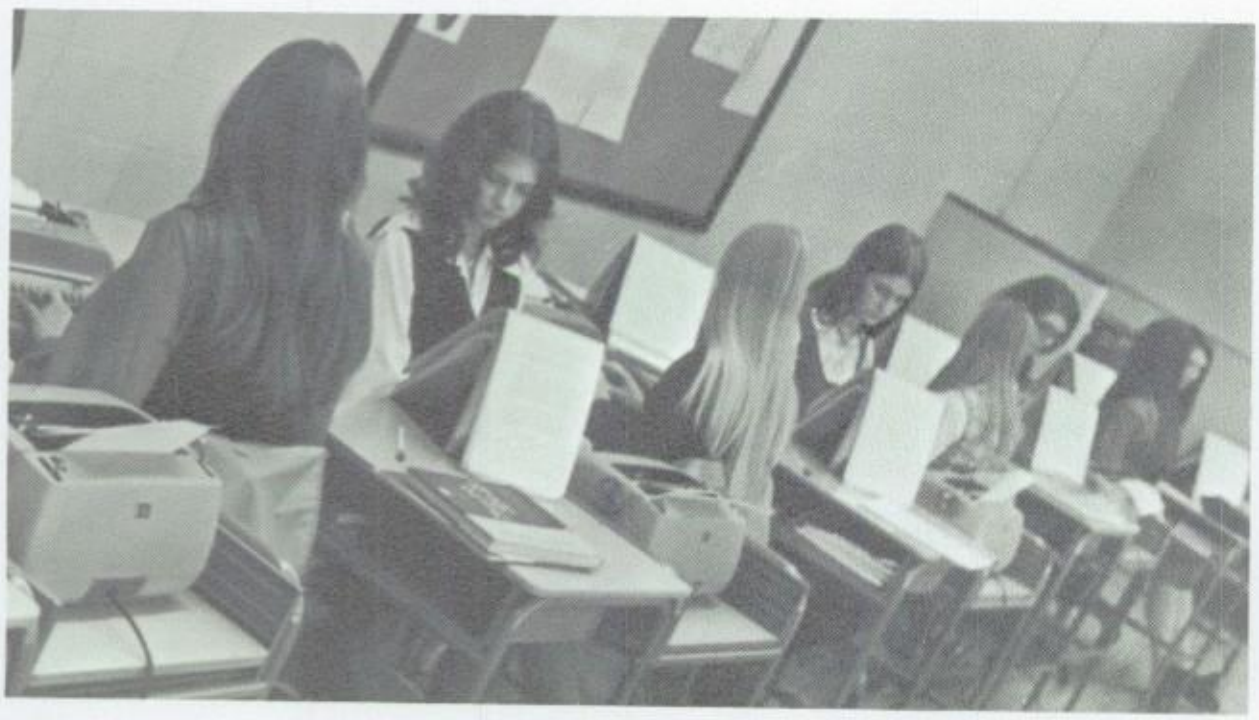
For the first time in Concordia's history military was voluntary. As a result the classes were much smaller, and the students were genuinely interested in the subject. The increased willingness to work on the part of the students made Sgt. Miller's job of teaching such basic skills as marching and marksmanship much easier. This year Concordia could be truly proud of its military.

Voluntary Military Program Sparks New Enthusiasm

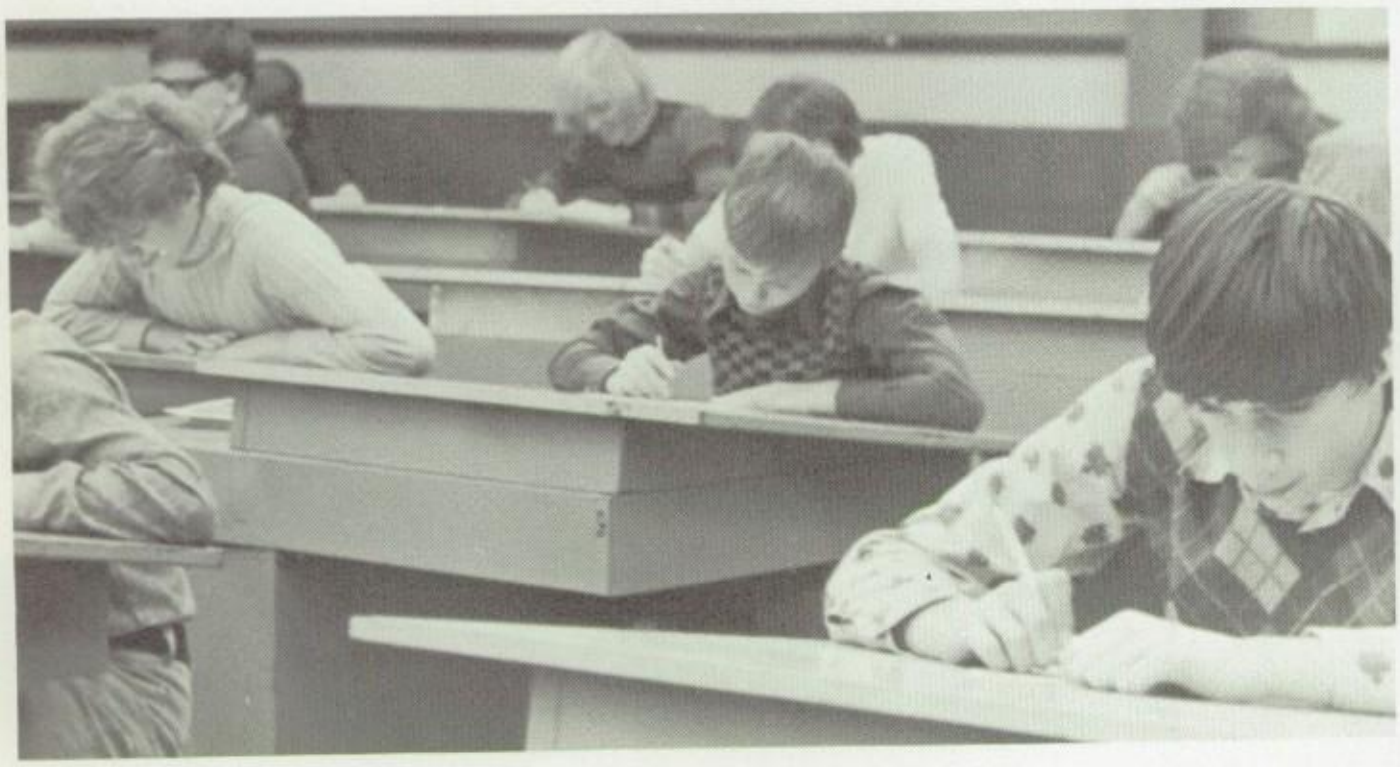




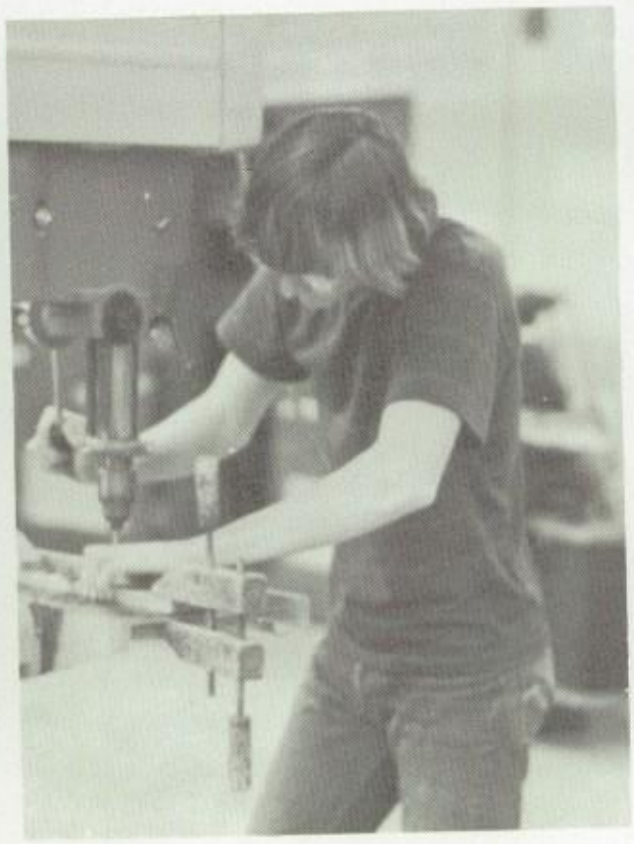
Students gained practical experience in business classes through typing, shorthand and other useful skills. Accepting responsibility for learning on their own, they found that long hours of practice paid off as talent increased. Though students went ahead at their own pace, deadlines helped students keep up to date. Students intending to go into business or secretarial work after high school found these classes very beneficial Business Courses include typing, shorthand, basic business, accounting, data processing, notehand, and secretarial traning.



Students Gain Vocational Skills



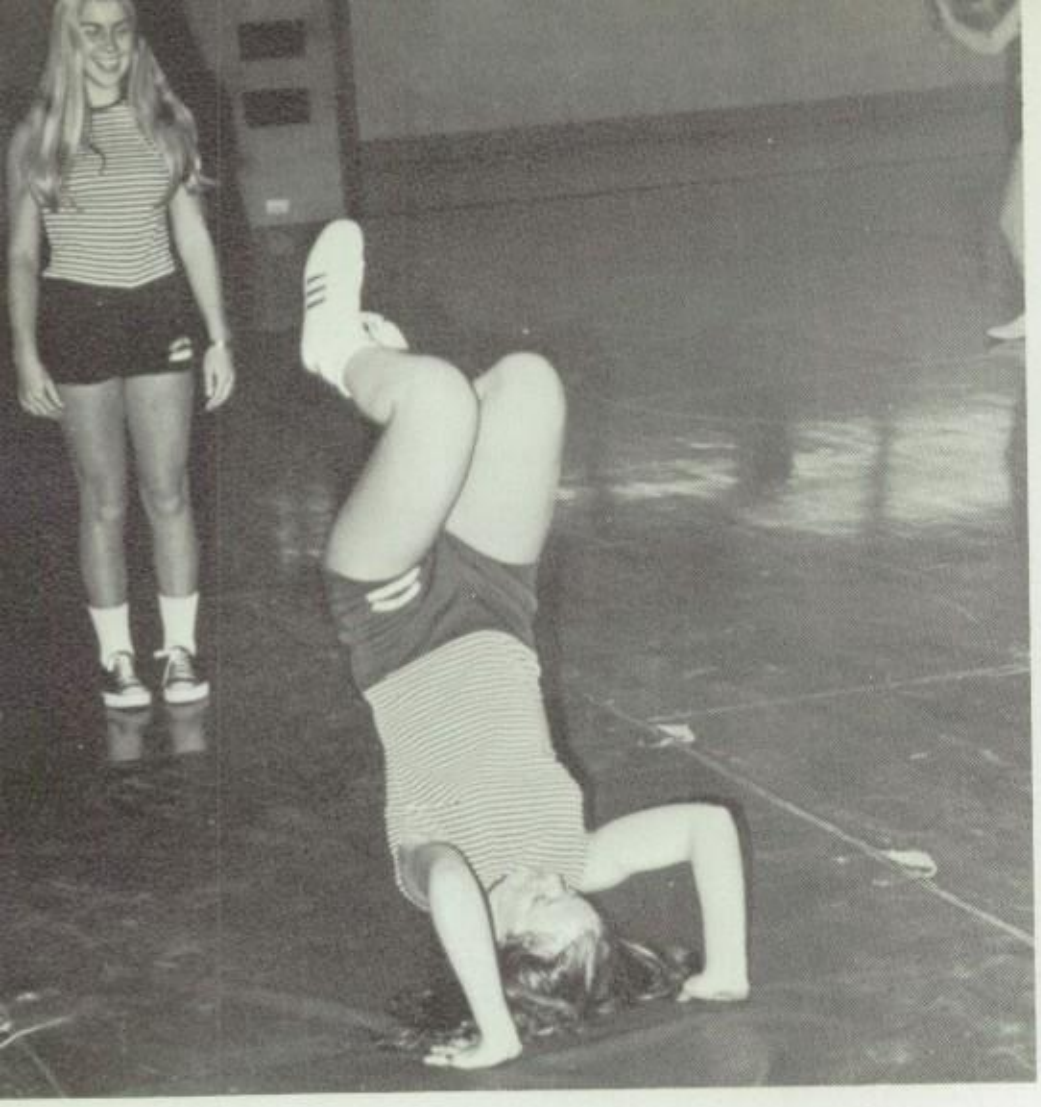
Shop Projects Enliven Display Case



Industrial arts students gained practical experience in the skills which would assist them in any future industrial job. In the newly decorated shop students learned to use power tools through wood and metal working. The creations of some of the students could always be viewed in the shop display case. Students in the mechanical drawing classes learned the basics of architectural design and drafting. All in all, these various classes proved to be very worthwhile.

Learning the arts of cooking, sewing, and interior decorating kept girls in the home economics department busy this year. Advanced courses helped prepare girls for college or a career as a homemaker. The highlight of the year came with the annual fashion show which showed girls that they could make beautiful clothes inexpensively. home ec. girls learned that work and play can mix!

What's Cooking in Home Economics?



Phys Ed. Develops Many Skills

Physical education was the name of the game with the active gym classes. Under the excellent guidance of Miss Schlie, the girls concentrated on fitness and coordination. A variety of sports helped make getting in shape fun. The rough and ready boys' classes were supervised by Mr. Massucci and Mr. Hoffman. The boys found that teamwork and sportsmanship are two valuable concepts to any good sports team. Above all, CLHS teachers know how to trim flab.

Once again students and faculty had the wonderful opportunity to tour the Old World, but this time anyone who was a Concordia graduate or a member of a church supporting CLHS could go. For two marvelous weeks the lucky souls of the tour group feasted their eyes on the famous sites in England and France. Their journey included such places as Paris, the Louvre, Versailles, London and Windsor. The only disagreeable part of the tour was the prospect of returning to school!

There's No News Like Lu-Hi News

The Lu-Hi Voice, our school scroll, gave an informative insight into student life, activities, and social events. In order to please the student body, editor Michelle Meyer and her staff took a poll asking for student opinion on changes. As a result a new feature, "The Happy Ads," appeared bringing smiles to the majority of those who wrote and read them.

'73 Staff Unites in Team Effort

The 72-73 Luminarian Staff, headed by co-editing slave drivers Dori Erwin and Steve Hermann, worked extremely hard this year. Getting out a yearbook by spring made deadlines more difficult for both the editors and photographers. Even though it took a lot of effort, the staff still managed to preserve its "do-nothing" image when Mr. Zuehsow stepped out of the room.

Last year the abolition of Council was often discussed. Officers as well as members were concerned about the apathy found to be so prevelent during meetings. This new school year brought different attitudes towards S.C. It has now regained the respect necessary for proper functioning as a representative organization of our student body. The initiation of the Student-Teacher Relations Board created an awareness between students and faculty. Given this opportunity S.C. was successful in its most important function: Improving relationships between people.

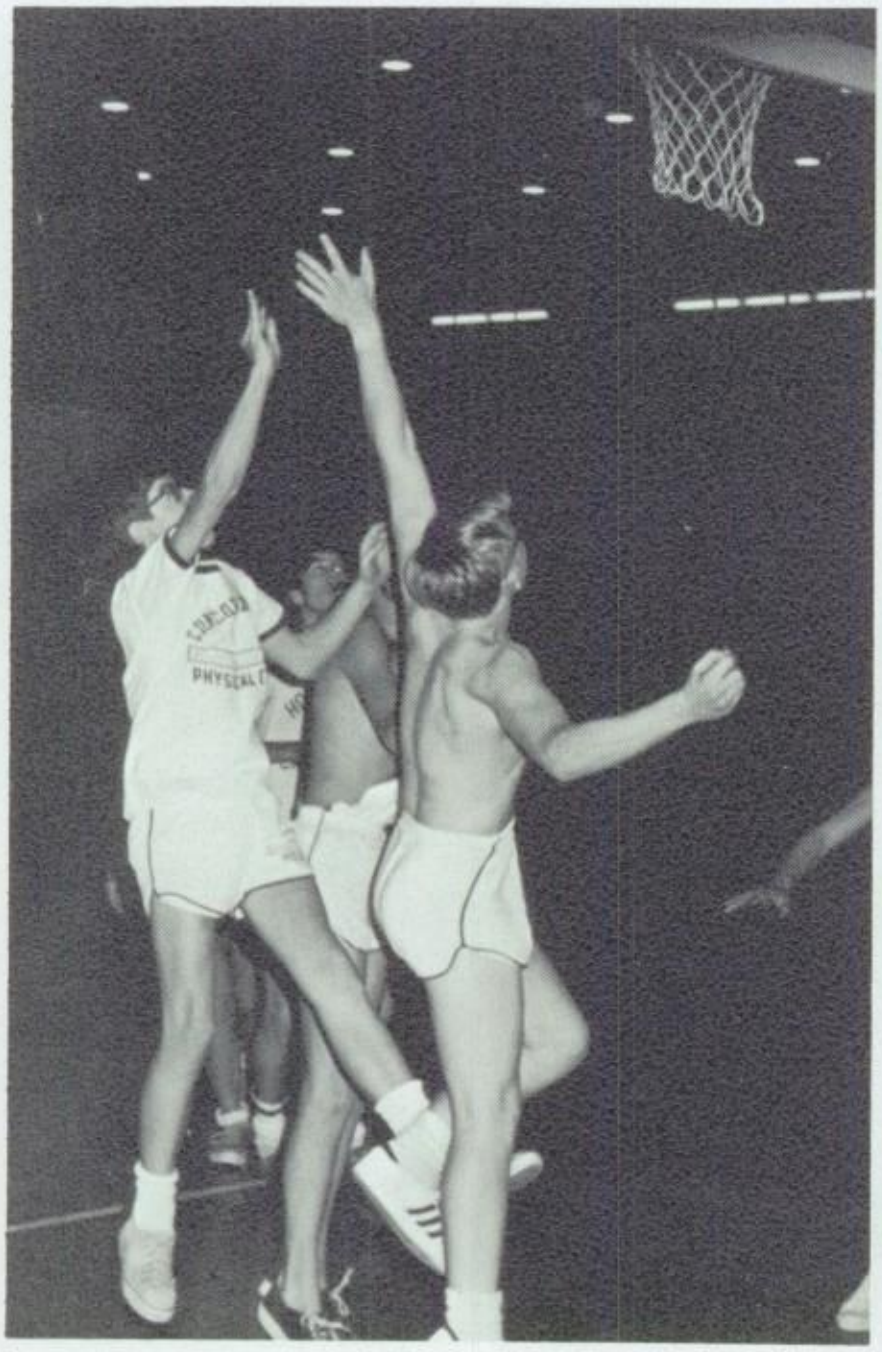
GAA Gains IHSAA Membership

After finally gaining membership into the IHSAA the 1972-73 GAA has experienced a brighter outlook for the future years. For the first time since its origin, the interschool athletic teams were eligible to compete with other city high schools in softball, volleyball, basketball, tennis and track. The 120-member organization added a ten week bowling program to its long list of activities. During the winter months the GAA girls teamed up with the Lettermen's club to sell citrus fruits. The major share of the girls' profits went towards the purchasing of sweatsuits to be used as uniforms.

Intramurals Offer Variety of Athletic Involvements

Within the resounding walls of our gym and various bowling alleys, intramural athletics provided fun exercise, and competition for many teams and individuals. Mr. Gemmer and Mr. Massucci supervised, organized, and revised this year's sports schedules. Talented and gifted athletes of the student body enjoyed taking part in contests such as basketball, bowling, and volleyball. Students who didn't play enjoyed the thankless job of being referee.



"C'mon Cadets, Let's Go!"

CLHS was pretty lucky this year to have three capable and spirited squads, dedicated to keeping sportsmanship "in" and moral high. Because they perservered in spite of the pressures from coaches and students, 1973 will go down as the year we never quit, when eighteen peppy girls led the student body in spirit and pride, through victory and defeat.

Always on the go, assisting in pep sessions, thinking up new cheers, and leading from the side lines are the Reserve Cheerleaders (FROM L.-R.): Kathy Purvis, Becky Doenges, Carol Seddlemeyer, Debbie Heckman, Rene Daugherty, and Tonya Hayes.

The vivacious Cheerblock was directed under the capable leadership of Pres. Dori Erwin, V.P. Joanne Paul, Sec. Cinda Rice, and Treas. Karen Wick.

Cheerleaders and Cheerblock Show School Spirit

Twirlers and Pom-Pom Girls Spark Fans At Halftime

The 1972-73 Twirling Squad was one of the best squads to have ever dazzled the minds of halftime viewers. When the band gave the cue, the twirlers cut loose and revealed their well-planned routines that had been worked upon the regular Tuesday and Thursday night practices. Skills such as flashes, two hand spins, and figure eights formed the basis for the routine, while more difficult stunts like butterflys, cartwheels, and body wraps added pazzaz. Our girls were really something else!

This year Concordia gained the Pom-Pom Girls as a new feature in the field of entertainment. The sight of thirty young ladies marching in step to the beat of the drums was enough to keep everyone in their seats during halftime. Such a sensational squad as the Pom-Pom Girls is sure to be with us for years to come!

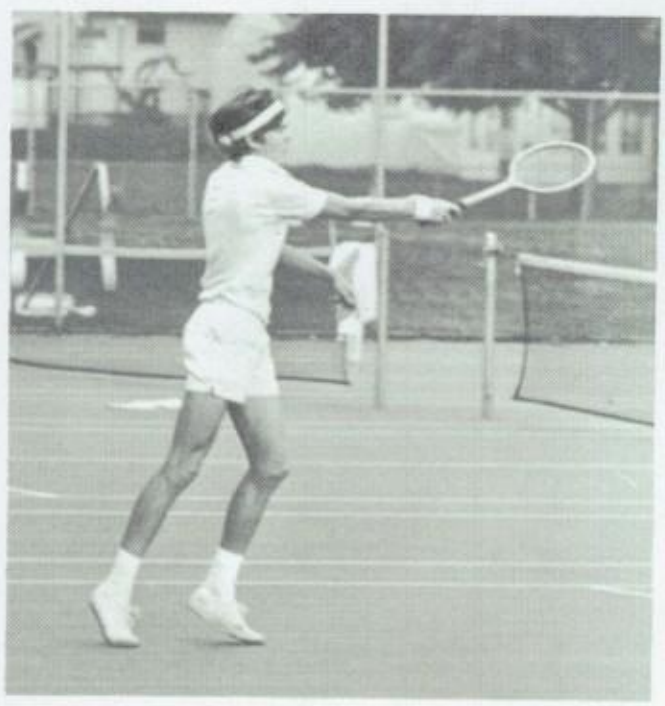
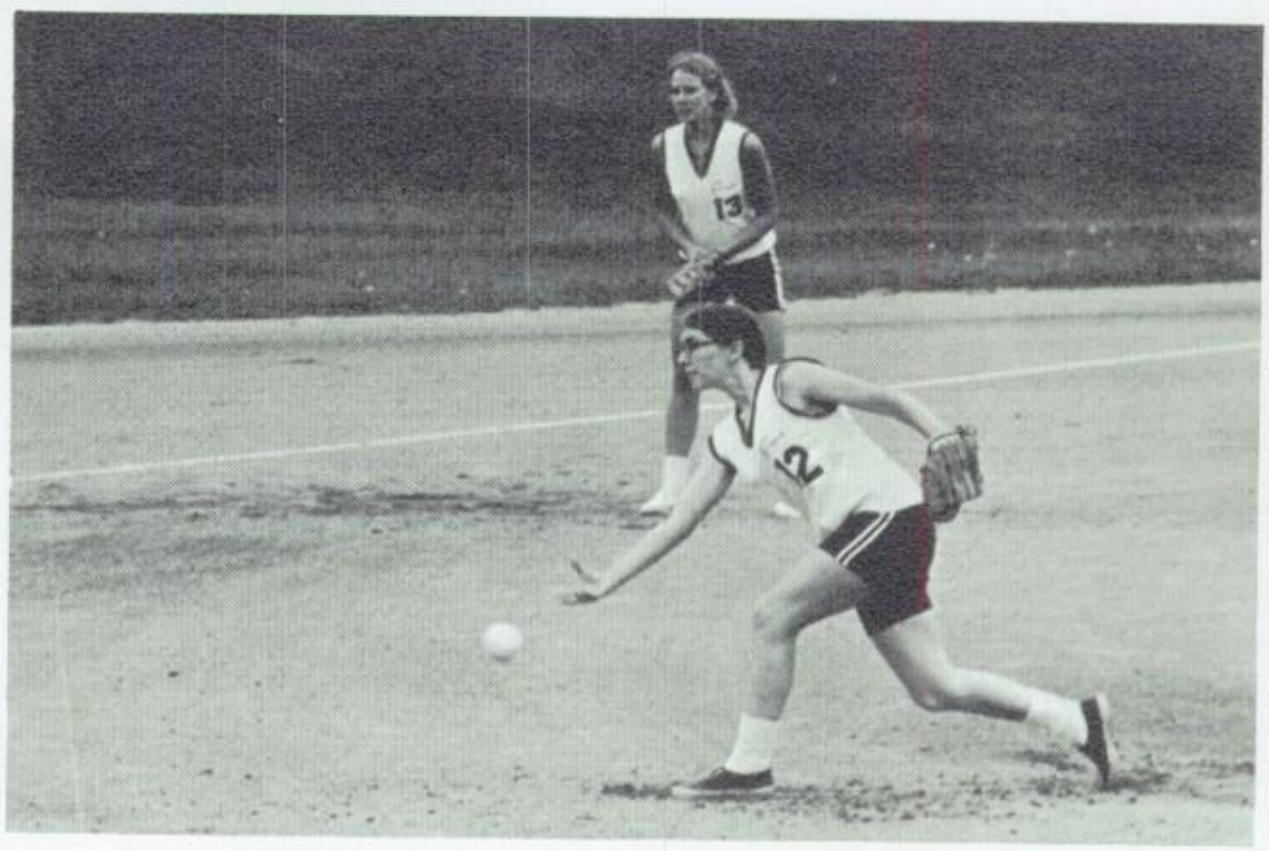
ATHLETICS





Gridmen Boast 4-0 NEIC Slate

An "option offense," a stingy defense, and a driving desire for the team victory all characterized the football team's winning season. The Cadets compiled a 5-4 record, capping it off with an upset victory over the north division champ, Northrop. While not playing the required number of games for the conference title, the spirited team wound up 4-0 in the NEIC standings. Led by co-captains Doug Gentile and all-city selection John Koeneman, the small, quick team averaged 18 points to the opposition's 9, a feat indicative of a fine football season.

Long Maroon Line Takes Trophy in Postal Meet

Coupling a high morale and a genuine team effort, the 1972 harriers enjoyed one of the most successful seasons ever at CLHS. Under the leadership of coach Tom Mertins the squad finished with a 12-5 record and a strong third place in the city ranks. The season was highlighted by the return of the National Lutheran Cross Country Postal Meet Championship to Concordia after a year's absence. Seniors Steve Hermann (1st), Thom Sauer (6th), and Steve Snyder (8th) paced the Cadets to this national title while sophomores Tim Weber and Larry Kennie provided the necessary depth. The reserve squad also had a fine season at 14-2. The spirited team closed the season with a 24-hour marathon run, which raised about $600 for the Shepherd of the City Lutheran Church.

Netters City Co-Champs, 2nd in NEIC, 5th in State

Led by juniors Art Scherer and Luke Grœssman, Concordia's tennis team once again had a fine season, losing only the last match to North Side, the Cadets compiled a 10-1 record for a share of the city title with South Side, while finishing a strong second in NEIC competition. Lack of experience in the young team accounted for the 5th place showing in Sectionals. The regional crown was grabbed by the Cadets the following week, due to the doubles victory by Art and Luke who finished a very respectable 4th in state. With the graduation of Kurt Krueckeberg and Ted NaThaLang, next year's tennis team will have to draw upon the talents of the underclassmen, most notably George Rhee and Steve Kleinschmidt.

Mini-men Close With 11-9 Season

Surprising more than a few skeptics, Concordia's "mini-men" battled their way to a successful 11-9 record. Combining speed, ball-handling, and sharp shooting to more than make up for a lack of height, the Cadets captured 3rd place in one of the toughest city races ever. Led by Allen County Player of the Year, Eugene Parker, the squad had its share of victory strings and slumps. In NEIC competition the varsity wound up in a tie for second with Bluffton, while sectional play saw the Cadets outlast New Haven in a real thriller before bowing out to city titlist North Side. With the loss of all-city selection Mike Berning and honorable mention choice John Koeneman, CLHS basketball fans are counting on the likes of Parker, Knox, and Ostermeyer to lead next year's team to another winning campaign.

Tall Reserves Treat Fans to Exciting Finishes

Although finishing on the poor end of a 5-13 record, Concordia's reserve team was certainly no cause for discouragement this past season. Throughout the campaign Coach Reinking's players exhibited excellent spirit and enthusiasm. Most important of all for future hardwood seasons, the team improved constantly during the season, and many of the losses were extremely close. In its second year at Concordia, the sophomore team used their height to overcome many foes on their way to a very respectable 12-4 slate. The determination and teamwork displayed by the C-team is a credit to Coach Massucci's ability as well as an assurance of victory.

This year's wrestling team showed remarkable ability and determination. Under the coaching of Mr. Ihssen, Mr. LeBeau, and Mr. Braun, this team came from a slow start to become one of the most feared sectional teams around. Although their dual meet record of 3-7 wasn't impressive, their tournament record was. In the five tournaments in which they participated, Concordia earned two seconds places, two third places, and one fourth. And for only the second time in Concordia's history two wrestlers, Don Gotsch and Rik Ihssen, advanced to the state finals. Don Gotsch did exceptionally well in bringing back a third place in the state match. The many months of sweat, drilling, dieting, and just plain hard work paid off for these boys.

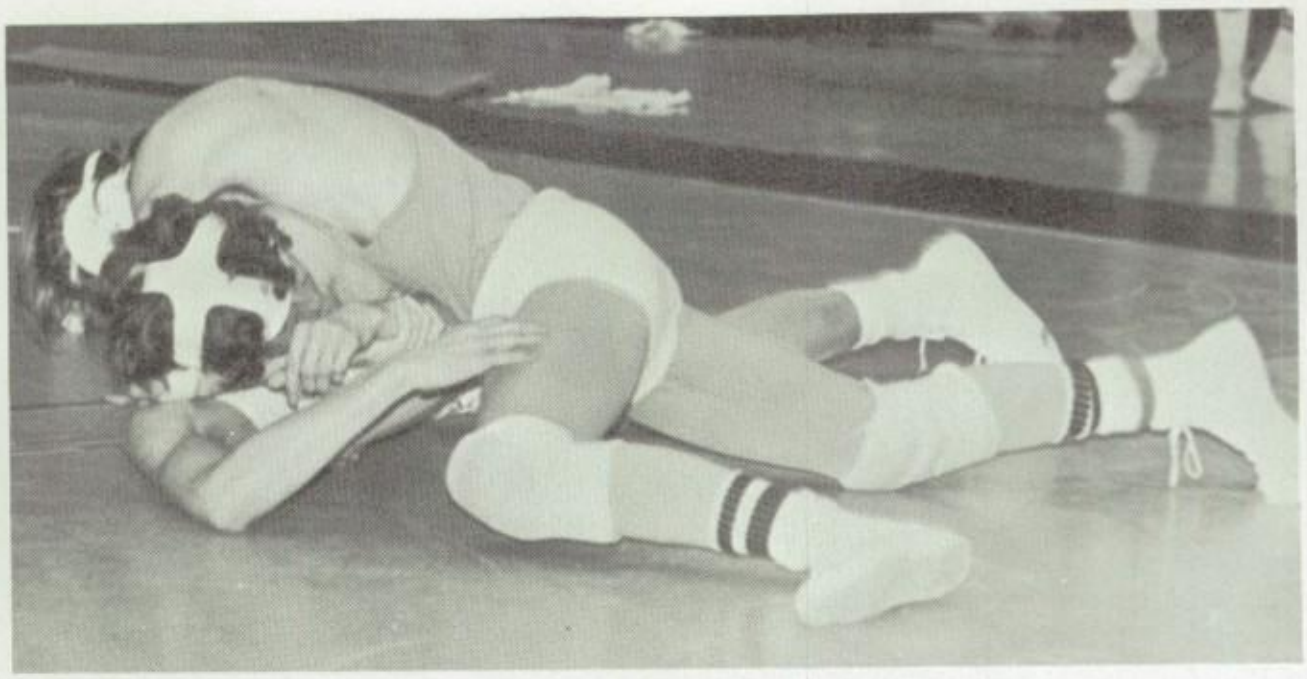
Freshman and Reserve Wrestlers on Their Way



This year's freshman and reserve wrestling teams showed great promise and desire. The reserve team had a good year with a 7-3 record. While the freshman record at 2-4 wasn't as impressive as the reserve record, its main purpose was to develop future wrestlers. Mr. James (Bananas) Braun was the capable and efficient freshman coach who accomplished this purpose and kept the team alive and kicking. The reserve team was led by sophomores Bill Nix, Mark Raabe, and Geoff LoVerde. The freshman team leaders were Arnold Benecke, Steve Brenner, Nat Harms, Steve Hoerger, and Gary Schull. CLHS should expect some extremely good wrestlers in future years from these two teams.

Underclassmen Spark Team

The girls' softball team met stiff opposition this season. Their strongest, most stubborn competitor was one which left the girls' record standing at 0-2 — RAIN! The volleyball team, however, had a fine season, finishing with a 8-6 mark. The team had some exciting games and advanced as far as the semi-finals in the sectional tourney.

Sparkling 8-0 Season Leaves "Cuties" as Sole Undefeated CLHS Team

The 1972-73 basketball season saw the CLHS girls covering a lot of court in their 8 game schedule. The team, captained by senior veteran Michele Meyer, was packed full with much individual effort and spirit. A strong factor of the female cagers was teamwork, a point highly emphasized by their fine coach Carolyn Schlie. Two of the many fine contributors to the squad were super junior LeeAnn Berning, who retained an 18.2 average and senior Joanne Paul, with a 16.2 average. The rebounding services of senior Jan Kuehnert also added greatly to their success.

ADMINISTRATION

Principal Guenther Herzog

Herzog and the Board "Get it Together for Christ"

Under the able leadership of principal Guenther Herzog, the administration once again had the unenviable task of trying to please all of the people, all of the time. Flanked by teachers, parents, and students, these men have to listen to the "voice of experience" while keeping an open ear to the growing concerns of the student. Along with the Board of Directors, the men behind the scene, Concordia's administration must first determine school policy and then must perform the next to impossible task of seeing that it is followed. Assisting Mr. Herzog, with the administrative duties this year were Reverand William Beckman, Vice Principal; Mr. Carl Gallmeier, Director of Guidance; and Mr. Glenn Parrish, Dean of Students.

Captain Homer L. Clendenen
Junior ROTC Instructor
1969-1972

IN MEMORIAM

Captain Homer L. Clendenen was the Senior Army Instructor at Concordia for the past five years. He retired from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers after 22 years of service. He served in World War II, and later served in the Philippines and Okinawa. He served as an advisor to the Bolivian Military Academy, and later as an Army Recruiter and Career Counselor. Prior to his assignment at Concordia, he spent three-and-a-half years at the University of Notre Dame as an instructor in the Senior ROTC Program.

Captain Clendenen was highly regarded by his fellow officers, the non-commissioned officers, and the many cadets with whom he had come in contact. His contributions to the entire JROTC program will continue to be appreciated for many years to come. Men such as Captain Homer Clendenen are the exception rather than than the rule. Soldiers like Captain Clendenen are never forgotten.

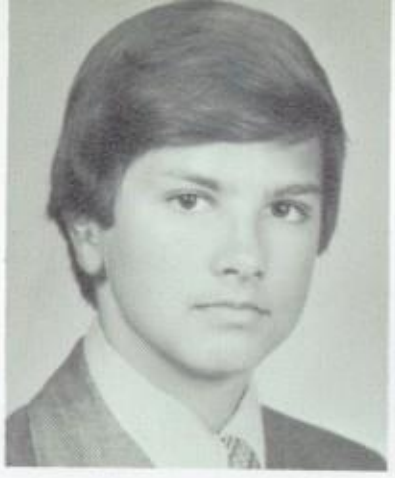
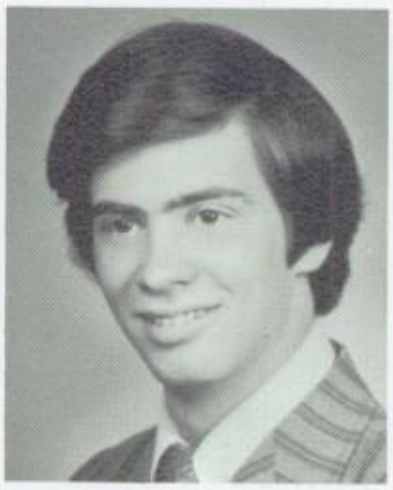
SENIORS

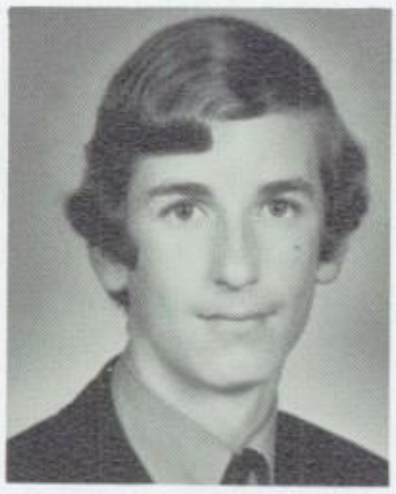
Being a Senior Used to Be an Impossible Dream



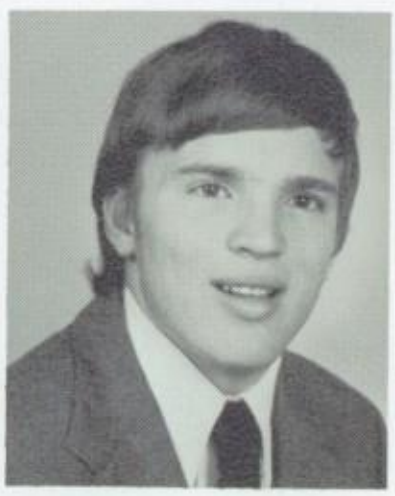
Mark Ahlbrand: I'd like to thank everybody that made me what I am today — and wish them better luck next time.



Keith Allen: Just open your eyes and realize the way it's always been — love it to death.



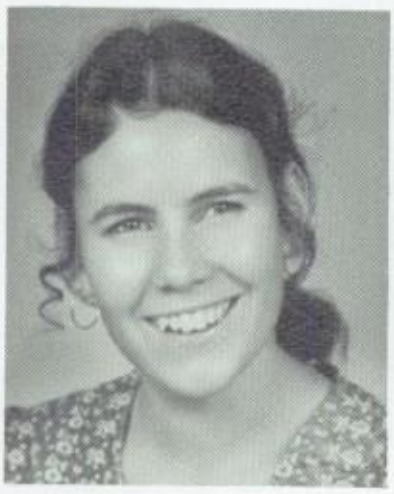
Curtis Beecher: "I'm a controversial figure — my friends either dislike me or hate me."



Mike Berning: Does what he has to do . . . golf and basketball are his games and other sports just get in the way

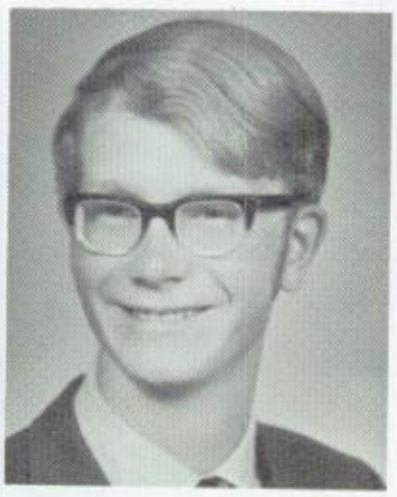
Dan Albers: Familiarity is the root of the closest friendships, as well as the most intense hatreds.

Lorrie Allen: You can't please everyone so you got to please yourself.

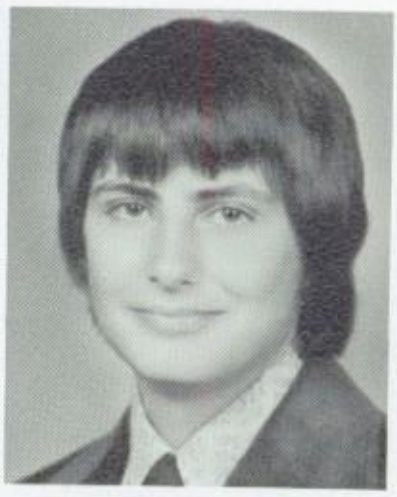


Becky Berger: Life is what you make it, but let God be your Guide. Be yourself.

Merle Arduser: God shall be my hope . . . my Stay, my Guide, and Lantern to my feet.



Don Berning: Meanwhile these three remain: faith, hope, and love, and the greatest of these is love.

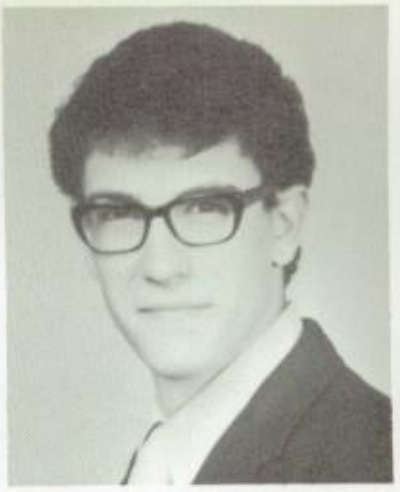


Scot Bartels: Dark and devilish . . . As a rule I keep cool, but when done wrong, I come on strong.

Sharon Berning: Life should be like a beautiful stream, with just enough ripples to make you appreciate it more.

Tom Biggs: There are no hopeless situations, only people who have grown hopeless about them.

Cindy Bitzinger: If only I may grow: firmer, simpler, quieter, warmer.



Bill Bleke: A man can fail many times, but he isn't a failure until he blames someone else.

Peg Bohnke: Mine is the sunlight ... Art is my way of telling the world how I feel.

Daylon Booker: I can't believe I survived all four years!

Diane Bowlin: "The greatest remedy for anger is delay."

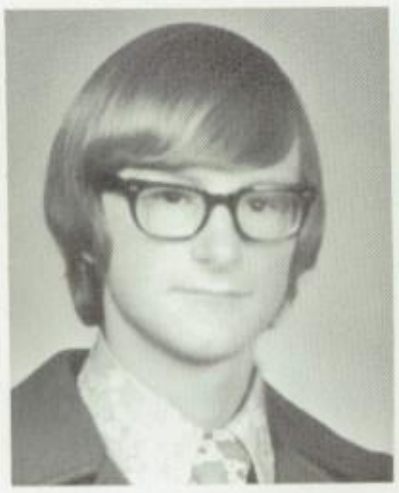
Richard Bredemeyer: Wants to be wanted "Accept me for what I am, but please accept me."

Debra Brenner: You can give gifts without caring, but you can't care without giving.

Barbara Brown: Life is a bundle of little things. Success and joy can be accomplished with the help of God.

Paul Brueggeman: Being with people at Concordia was great but the weekends were the best.

Tom Bruick: My eleventh commandment: Thou shalt not rat on thy fellow rat.

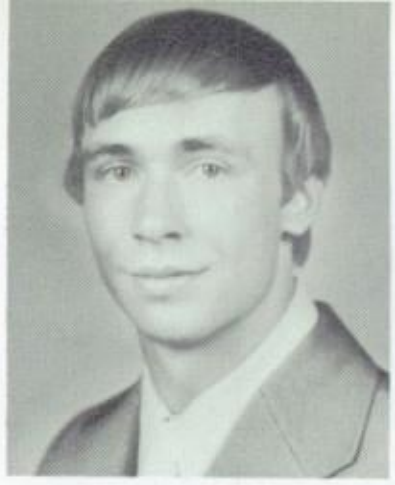


Ron Buesking: It is the man who does nothing who is sure nothing can be done.

Lois Buhr: To live hurts, to love pain, from these come the joy of life.

John Bultemeier: I will study and get ready, and perhaps my chance will come.

Betsy Buuck: Though small in size, always big in fun ... "Candy is the source of life."



Dave Carpenter: To err is human; to blame it on someone else is even more human.

Linda Chapman: Live for today, remember yesterday, but tomorrow is not promised to us . . . PEACE

Janel Colby: Reach high, for stars lie hidden in your soul. Dream deep, for every dream precedes a goal.

Isaac Coleman: If you are not part of the solution you must be part of the problem.

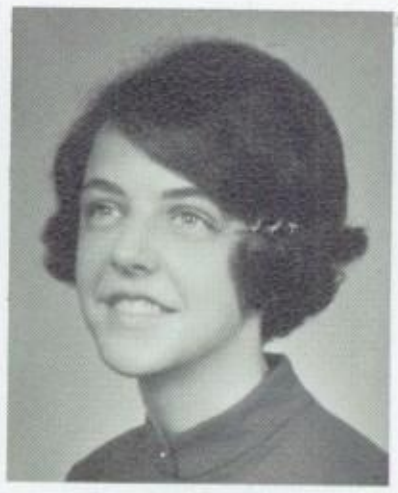
Daniel Conner: I don't know where I'm going but I'm on my way.

Maureen Corbit: There are those who try to help and guide us, but the final decision is of our own choosing.

Sherri Cordes: There are only two remedies for the suffering of the soul: Hope and Patience.

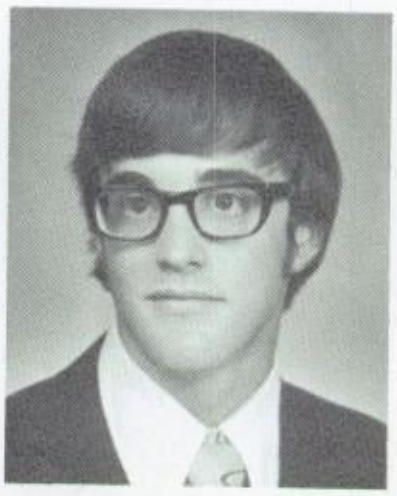
Seems Like You Never Really Reach the Top

John Dettmer: Known as "Squid". Broken legs, water skiing, and scuba diving . . . his future is in Christianity.

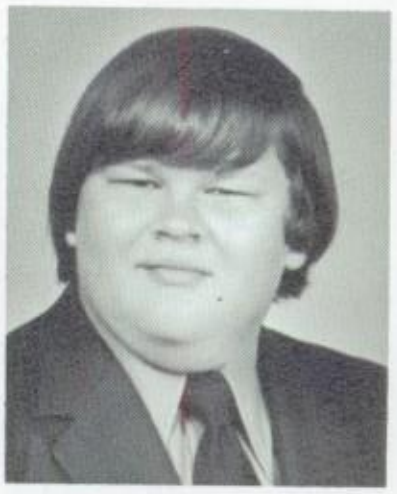


Donna Dammeyer: Look for the good in a person and don't dwell on their imperfections.

Doug Davis: Always has a joke when you need it, and sometimes when you don't . . . likes what he is doing — whatever it is.



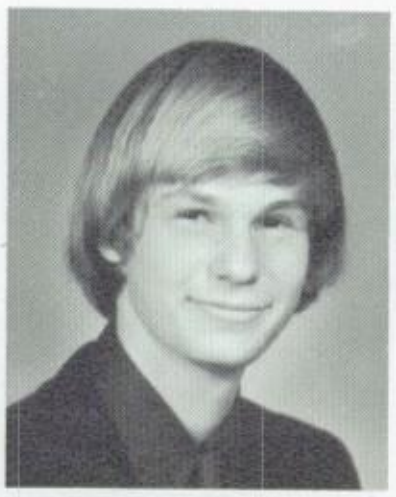
Steve Dent: The world of the past held my most pleasureful experiences . . . if only I could return to them.



John Doehrman: Skilled in doing evil . . . Will it be a strike or a spare? . . . Tahiti.

Carol Dieckman: Strive for love . . . set your heart on the spiritual gifts, especially the gift of speaking God's message.

Deann Dierks



Dave Doehla: Loves the outdoors, hiking and camping . . . weighs his decisions and states his opinions

Being a Senior Isn't All Its Cracked Up to Be

Dale Doerffler: Most of us are inclined to measure our achievements by what others have not done.

Dean Doerffler: Real generosity towards the future lies in giving all to the present.

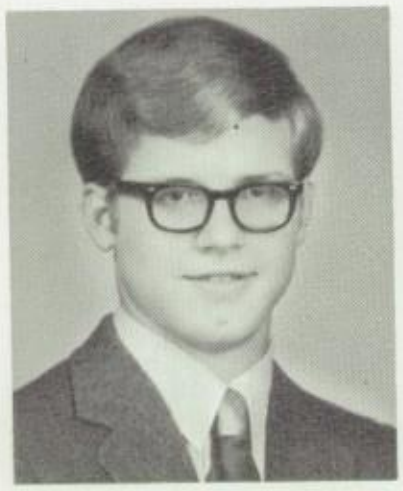
JoEllen Dormans: We make a living by what we get; we make a life by what we give.

Doreen Erwin: Learn to be joyful in your life, for it will outlast everything but breath.

Cindy Etzler: Friendship doubles our happiness and divides our griefs.

Sue Exner: I am not afraid of tomorrow for I have seen yesterday and I love today.

Jill Fast: Give your love and share it with someone special; life is what you make it.



Jeff Fisher: The only time you must not fail is the last time you try.

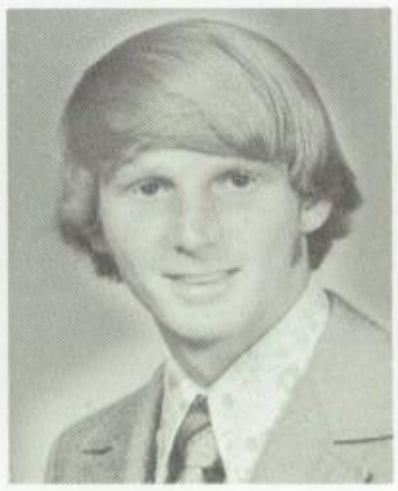
Terry Ford: Any fool can make a rule, and every fool will mind it.

Lynda Foster: When you burn out with love, others will die out in the cold.

Linda Fox: No love, no friendship, can ever cross the path of our life without leaving a mark on it forever.

Janean Frede: I can only try, and sometimes I need to get away.

Judy Gaddy: Some people think they know how others ought to live when they themselves don't live at all.



Doug Gentile: Unlike most people who refuse to admit their faults, I'd gladly admit mine — if I had any.

Becki Gentile: . . . and whatever you do, do it with kindness and love.

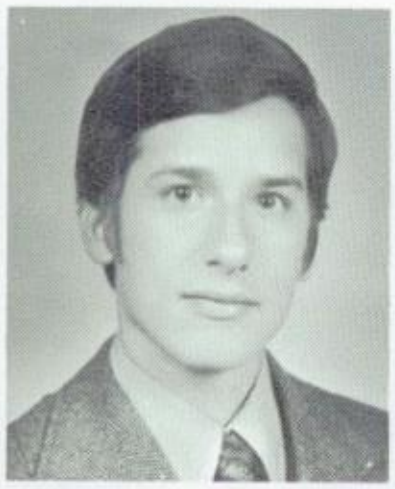
Terry Goeglein: People are lonely because they build walls instead of bridges . . . reach out and build a bridge.

Don Gotsch: Wrestling and baseball are his sports . . . whatever he does he tries his best and does it well.

Kevin Grady: A rumor is like a check-don't believe it until you've proved it genuine.

Sharon Graft: We judge ourselves by what we can do, while others judge us by what we've done.

Richard Greener: True satisfaction is surpassing your goal . . . thinks deeply, speaks softly, but listens to others.

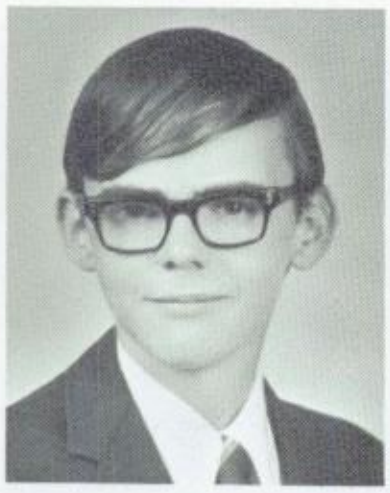


Gary Grossman: Positive thinking will make living worthwhile.

Kathy Haentfling: Reaching the highest level of communication means giving a part of yourself.

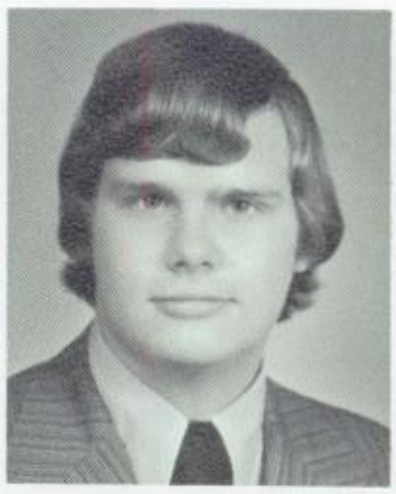
Claudia Harms: I wouldn't have liked to live without ever having disturbed anyone.

Bruce Hartman: Everyone has three characters: the one he shows, the one he has, and the one he thinks he has.



Gary Hartman: The man is richest whose pleasures are the simplest.

Jim Hartman: "I am as honest as the day is long, but when it gets dark-look out!"



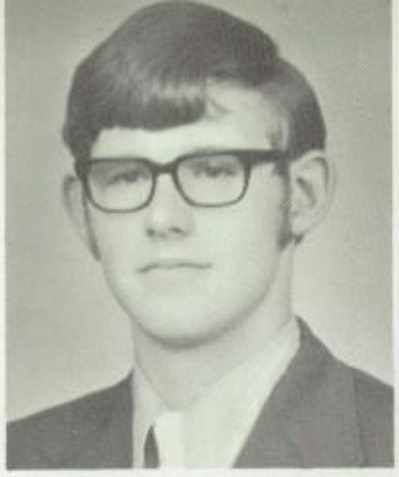
Neil Hartman: Every society honors its live conformists and its dead trouble-makers.

Bob Hartman: "I can't believe I made it . . . now I have to start all over again."

Tom Hartman: Hardy outdoors-man, loves nature, has athletic interests and common sense . . . a friend to all.

Rick Heckman

David Hendricksen: Knows where he stands on any issue . . . nice guy with a great voice . . . loves music and life.



Phil Henneman: Music is the only language in which you can not say a mean or sarcastic thing.

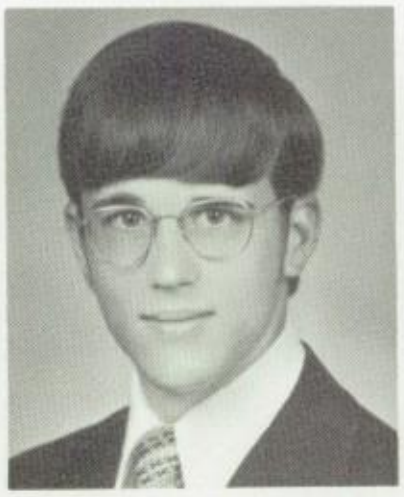
Steve Hermann: A Laugh, a Tear, a Smile, an encouraging Word. Prayer. What else could there be to life?

Connie Hitzeman; Everyone thinks of changing the world but no one thinks of changing himself.

Phil Hockemeyer: A man can do more than he thinks he can but usually does less than he thinks he does.

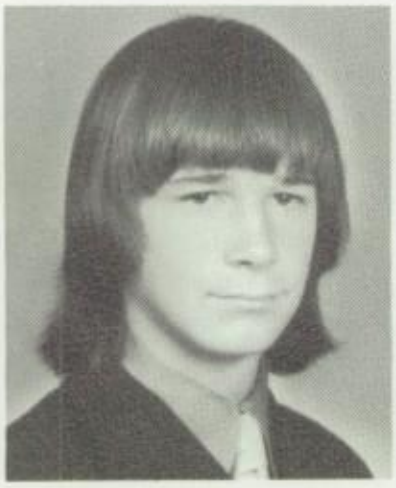
Lynn Hoffman: Try to understand others ... it's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice.

Kathy Hollopeter: No man is the whole of himself — his friends are the rest of him.



Terry Holmes: Think only of the past as its rememberance — it will give you pleasure.

Linda Hoppe: If everyone but me stops caring, I am alone. If I stop caring, I am nothing.



Rik Ihssen: Go placidly amid the noise and haste, remembering what peace there may be in silence ... live for God, it helps.

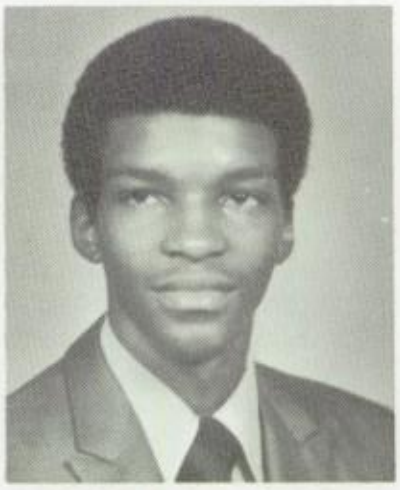
Jeanne Imler: Are we friends or enemies? Why, who can say? We nod to each other sometimes, in humanity.

Becky Imler: Happy is the man who finds wisdom and the man who gets understanding.

Karen Johnson: Accept me as I am; Then we can be true friends.

Diane Katt: Each of us is the only person who can give the other what each of us wants to have.

Johnnie Kennie: I am Black! Beautiful! Proud! I must be Respected, I must be Protected. I am God's Child.



Darryl Kirtz: Prejudices are the chains forged by ignorance to keep men apart.

Diane Klenke: Silences separate more than distances ... live each day like it was your last.

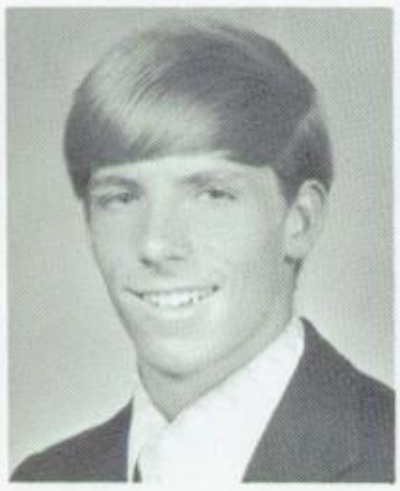
Tim Knapp: The service we render to others is really the rent we pay for our room on this earth.

Scott Knipstein: What evil lurks in the hearts of men? Only the Knipper knows!

Laura Knoll: If I live again, let me live it as before, for time is unchanging and so am I.

Sara Koehlinger: Music is the universal language, love's the key to peace, hope, understanding, and living in harmony.

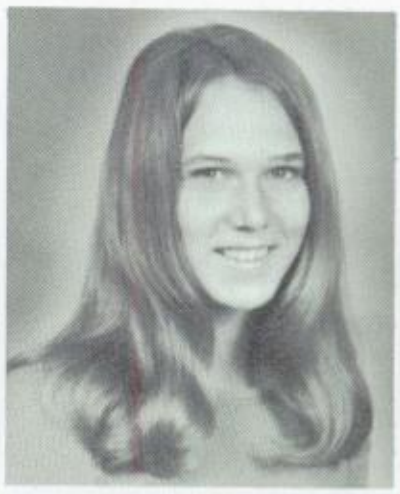
Vern Koehlinger: Good friends are worth caring for ... No one is too heavy to be your brother.



John Koeneman: Athletics are to do your best in ... Finds hope in what tomorrow will bring ... It's only the beginning ... "Koeno".

Liz Koerner: It's nice sometimes to open your heart a little bit and let some hurt come in. It proves you are alive.

Looking Out Upon a Sea of Opportunities

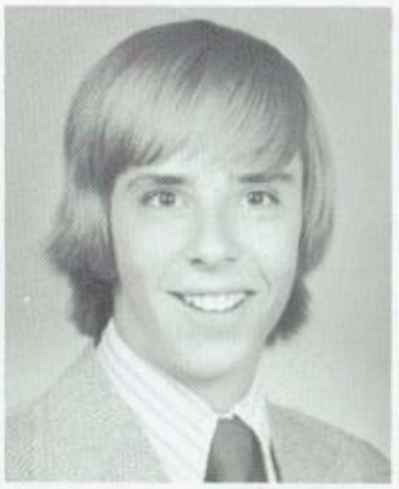


Jan Kuehnert: For each of us there are miracles. We have only to step silently aside to look upon everyday things.

Diane Koestler: Thinking back, nothing could have been more perfect and nothing could have been worse ... "Dee Dee".

Kurt Kruckeberg: Loves those foreign cars ... Likes tennis and those crazy canoe trips ... weird laugh.

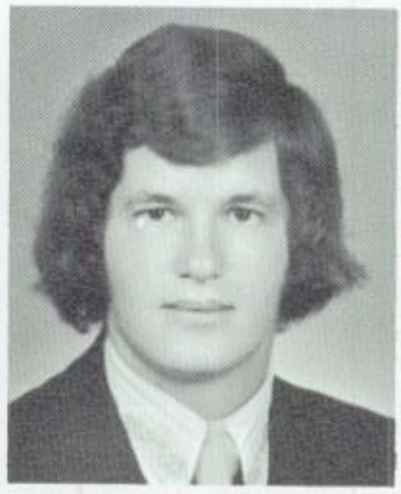
Diane Kruse: Two things are bad for the heart: running up stairs and running down people. When she laughs the doors shake.



Dan Lepper: A man's knowledge of love depends on how he grasps the subject.

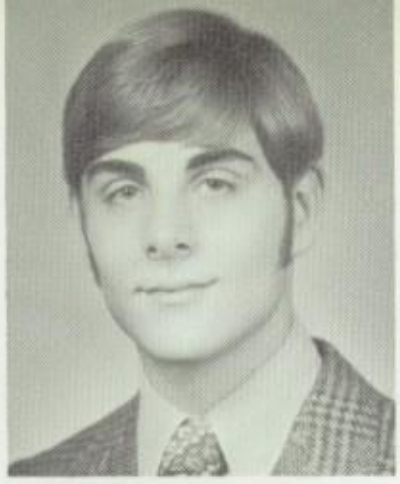
Debra Lapp: Life would be more pleasant if we could forget our troubles just as easily as we forget our blessings.

Cheri Laubscher: Let Him lead you ... Life is worth living ... Future of bedpans? ... Peace.



Mark Lenz: Even though you can not read all girls like a book it's nice to thumb the pages.

Steve Lethwaite: "The music fills my head and warms my soul." Always wondering — never knowing. Mystifying joker.

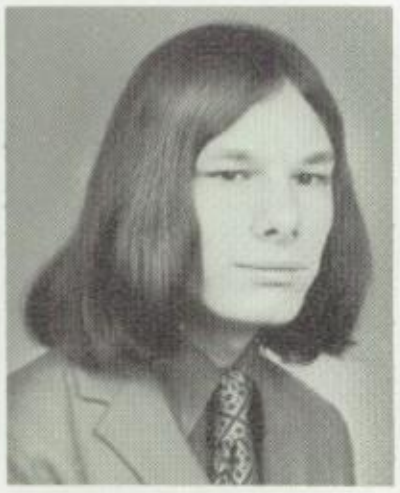


John Lorenzen: What can you say when there's so much to say and not enough time to say it?

Hans Lupke: Think high to rise . . . When you think you can't go on push yourself one step beyond.

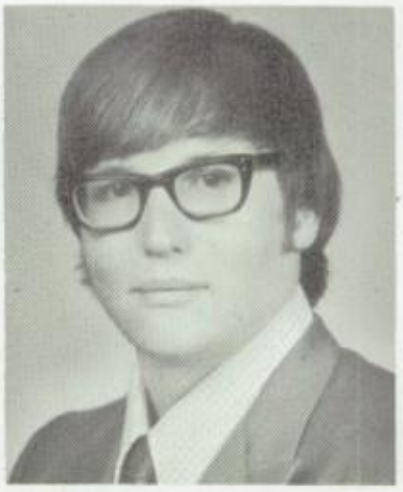
Ron Maassel: I learned many things; I forgot many things. I hope I learned more than I forgot.

Thinking ahead: College, Marriage . . . Help!



Tim Maschinske: The grass was greener at Concordia . . . You have to try it to like it.

Dave Manck: An ounce of keeping your mouth shut is worth a pound of explanation.



Rick Marks: All's fair in love and war; they're alike in other ways, too!

Lisa McGinnis: Before you love, learn to run through snow leaving no footprint . . . her friends are special and close.

Ron Meek: Break your face . . . VALEDICTORIAN! . . . B the B, scrape a leaf.

Beth Meyer: Within you there is a stillness, a sanctuary to which you can retreat at anytime and be yourself.

Michele Meyer: Yesterday is a dream, tomorrow — only a vision, but today is here and now so live it well.

Richard Meyer: So I walk alone again, for now, or maybe forever, and die silent with the question still uncovered.

Glenda Miller: All the beautiful sentiments in the world weigh less than a single lovely action.

Will Miller: Mr. Parrish has taught me the eleventh commandment — "Thou shalt not get caught." I failed.

Jim Moehring: When viewed through the camera the minute become immensely large and the unimportant infamous.

Robert Mueller: Do it now! There may be a law against it tomorrow.

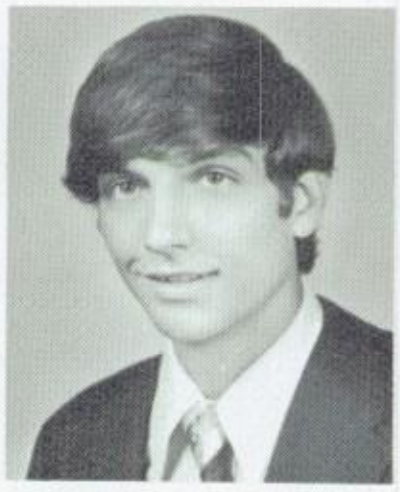
Eunice Muntzinger: Sometimes it is better to be open and feeling than closed and wise . . . Love is the key.

Debbie Narhwold: Today is the first day of the rest of your life — start it with a smile.

Diane Nahrwold: Someone you can always depend on for a needed smile . . . thoughtful . . . simple . . .

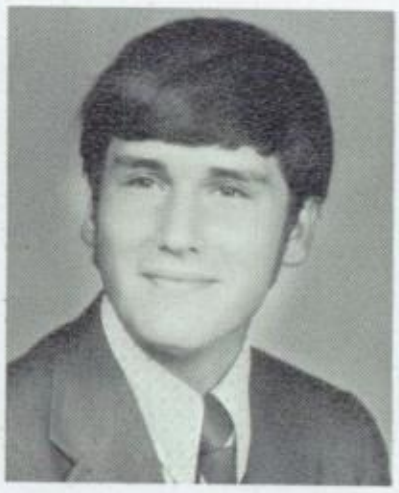
Norma Nahrwold: Remain sensitive to the beauty around you and be aware of your inner feelings.

Richard Nahrwold: "Get off my back" . . . "I get high with a little help from my friends."



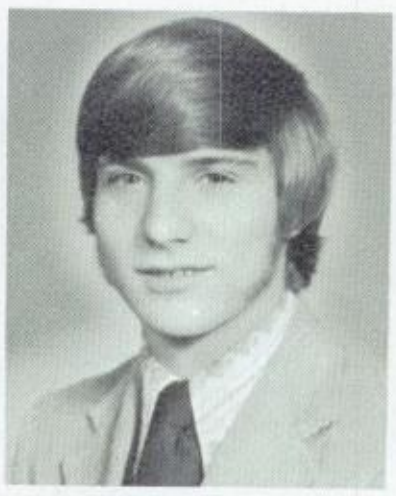
Darrell Nantz: Rough and rugged, I'm me. I'll be myself, accept me for who I am. "Big D".

Paul Nerger: What has been will be . . . and there's nothing new under heaven.



David Nold: I have lived long enough to look carefully the second time into things I am most certain of the first time.

Vicky Novak: I always prefer to believe the best of everybody — it saves so much trouble.



Mike Oetting: Super Camero . . . his car is his everything . . . spends his time with a few close friends.

Donna Ohm: The greatest wealth is contentment. With a little, a true friend is the greatest possession.

Gene Paschka: "I really can't think of anything to say, but I look forward to working after school."

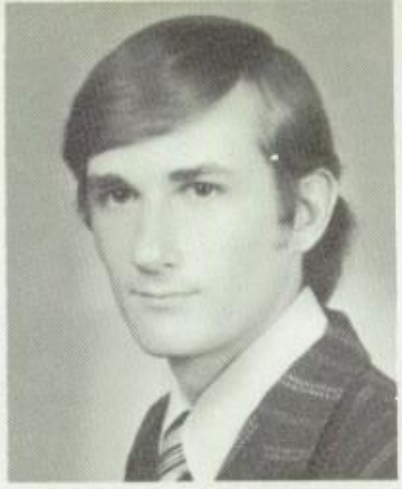
Joanne Paul: Happiness comes from the capacity to feel deeply, to think freely, to enjoy simply, to be needed.

Sandy Pennington: What good are dreams if they're no more than dreams that don't stand a chance to come true.

Bob Pierce: Some people go through life always pushing the door marked PULL.

Debbie Pollick: Within the circle of love lies all joys a heart can dream of.

Richard Pool: We can destroy ourselves by cynicism and disillusion just as effectively as by bombs.



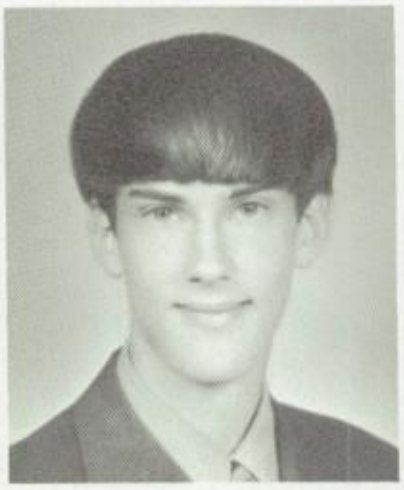
Greg Powell: fantastic basketball player . . . coordination unlimited . . . a voice like Cary Grant's . . . "Artie".

Denise Radesk: Cherish your yesterdays, dream your tomorrows, but live your todays.

Ken Ramsey: Mr. Kettles' man, "Friday" . . . a real worker behind the scenes.

Sandra Ramsey: Be content not with what you have but with what you are.

Laura Reinking: Blossom where you are planted. Live and grow no matter how hard the ground.

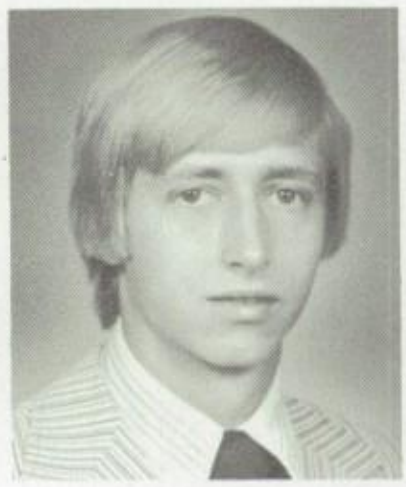


Mark Ripke: Forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal.

Jo Roemke: Life is not worth living without someone to love. "Aces".

Melany Roesener: Today well-lived makes every yesterday a Dream of Happiness and every tomorrow a Vision of Hope.

Pamela Ross: Bless the beasts and the children . . . Love me, love my animals.



Tom Sauer: "Mazeltov" . . . A little prying of the joker on the surface reveals a rare depth of understanding.

Cindy Savage: The trouble with silence is that too much of it is mixed with words.

Doug Savage: "Charlie" . . . Life comes around only once, live it in your own way, let no one influence your decisions.

Lowell Schaefer: I don't think I'm handsome — but what's my humble opinion against a mirror's?

Greg Scheiwe: What you seem to be — be really.

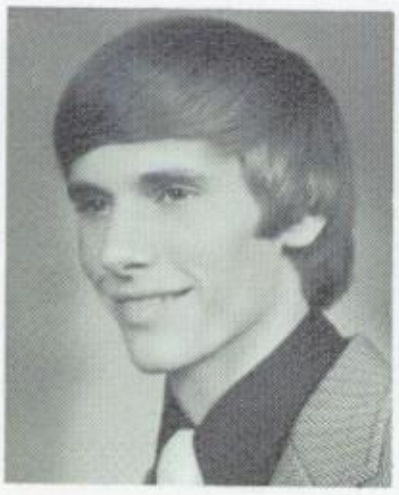
Brad Scherer: One of Concordia's best grapplers . . . blond hair and blue eyes — a handsome devil! . . . "Fatty".

Sandy Scheumann: We cannot make a success of our life without making a gift of it.

Stan Scheumann: "Muscles" . . . always the funny man . . . you'll laugh when he's around . . . he'll brighten up your day.

Terri Schiffer: If you had listened hard enough you might have heard what I meant to say — nothing

Julie Schlaudroff: Always is there when you need a friend, willing to help at all times.



Dick Schmidt: "forever sly", the past was the best that was humanly possible . . . I think, considering . . .

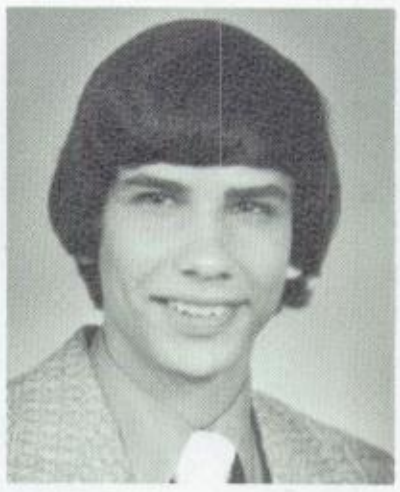
Jeff Schroeder: The first step in solving a problem is recognizing it . . . "Big Man"

With the Good and Bad Behind Us We Move on

Nancy Sgro: Never fear that your life will come to an end, rather fear that it will have no beginning.

Linda Schueler: Hope for the best, prepare for the worst . . . Love is worth living for.

Kevin Schumacher: Ex . . . Scienta . . . Tridents . . . Don't be afraid to do what is right.

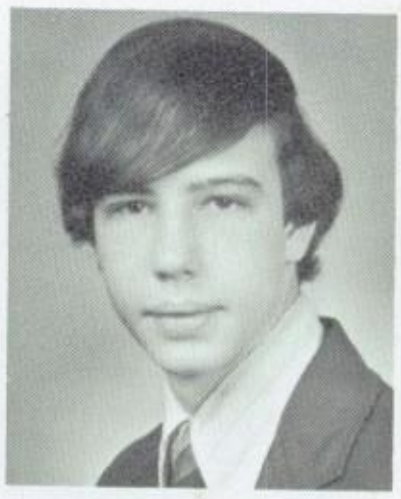


Achim Seifert: It takes all kinds of people to make a world — it's about time they started!

Debbie Sims: A smile means a lot. Just be happy and live each day as it comes.

Clark Shaughnessey: He's as unique as his name . . . flashy red hair and piercing sarcasm.

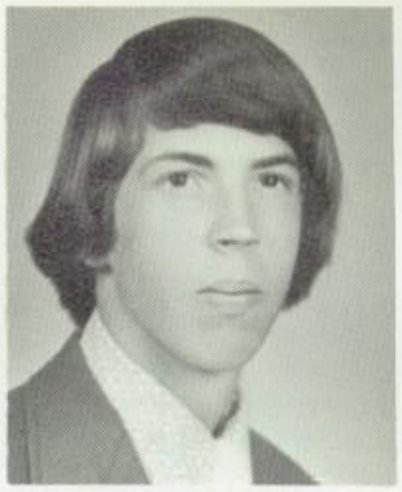
Joyce Shomo: Love's not blind; it sees more, not less. But because it sees more it is willing to see less.



Terry Silvers: Never argue with anyone: remember, he too has the right to his own stupid opinion.

Karen Sivits: As I look into the Future, my eyes are opened to a new beginning.

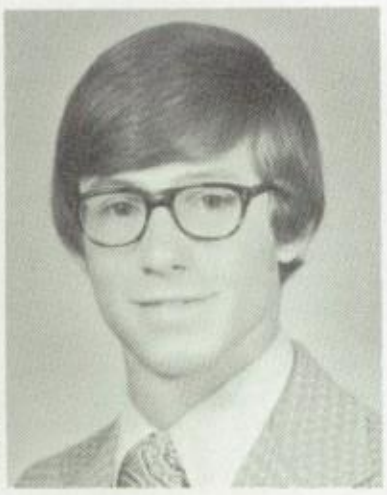
Cheryl Smith: Always a smile on her face, eagerly accepted by those around her.



Dave Snyder: The beauty of the world starts six feet under water. Today ... Tomorrow ... Eternally, God be with you.

Steve Snyder: The little I know I owe to my ignorance.

The End of One Life, the Beginning of a New Life



Mike Soest: Flying high ... loves to work with figures ... shout faith, live hope, love one another.

Jean Springer: To love and to be loved is the greatest happiness. Life is meaningless without faith in God and friends.

Deb Starke: You never leave a place you love. Part of it you take with you, leaving a part of you behind.

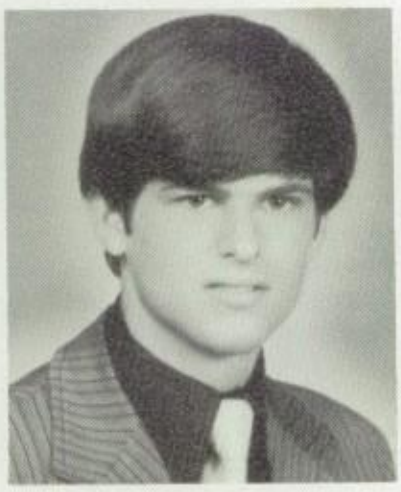
Joy Steeves: Today is the first day of the rest of your life. You don't know what you've got till it's gone.

Dave Stelzer: At home with disorder and last minute preparation ... a little mischief never hurt anyone.

Ken Strahan: Dedicated to track and women. The two don't mix, but try telling him that.

Bill Swain: The only thing I live for is to be married some day and drive a semi.

Phil Terrell: Laugh, and the whole world laughs with you, unless you laugh at your own joke.



Dave Tesch: Get all you can out of life ... help a dark day turn brighter ... AJ

Cheryl Thieme: Enjoys life to the fullest ... so that every minute counts.

Mel Tucker: Milo is a big part of his life ... sincere in what he does ... future helicopter pilot.

Mike Walpole: I'll never forget my friends here at Concordia — especially the ones that owe me money.

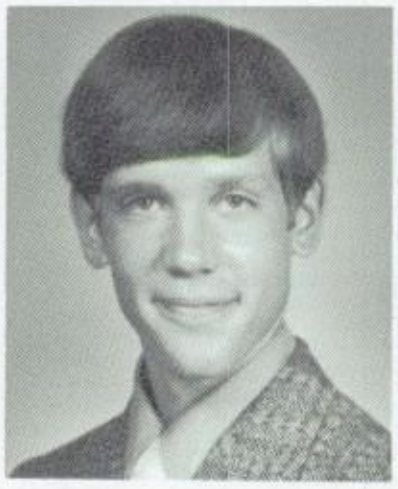
Julie Waltenburg: Echoes of childhood ring deep in my heart.

Ruth Wells: It is better to be hated for what you are than loved for what you are not.

Marty Werling: "People are beautiful." All you really need is to be loved and to love.

Paul Werling: Live! Life's a banquet table and most poor idiot's are starving to death. "The Rock".

Cindy Werst: Love is not put in your heart to stay. Love, to be love, must be given away.



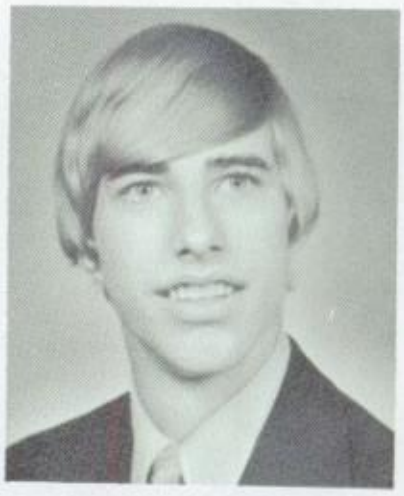
Tom Wesche: There's always that last bridge to cross . . . always one more goal to reach. Where will it all end?

Barb Westermann: Our prayers are answered not when we are given what we ask but when we are challenged to be what we can be.

Brenda Whitney: Show me who you really are instead of who you want to be.

Melinda Whitney: If you want to be different nowdays, just act normal. Be yourself no matter how much it hurts.

Karen Wick: Live the fullest life using all the abilities and opportunities God has given to you.



Steve Witte: To live is the rarest thing in the world. Most people merely exist, that is all.

Tim Witte: Win as if you were used to it and lose as if you enjoyed it for a change . . .

Dave Wyss: Wheels are my future . . . As it is, it will be . . . "David."

Randy Young: "I think the next best thing to solving a problem is finding some humor in it". Mr. Sarcasm.

Donna Zettlmier: Big brown eyes . . . memories never die, but with time they grown hazy.

Talent abounds in Most Musical Mark Lenz and Eunice Muntzinger.

Most Ladylike Melanie Roesener and Most Gentlemanly Don Gotsch

Best Dressed John Koeneman and Linda Foster display their superior taste.

Peggy Bohnke and Darrell Nantz display their artistic talents.

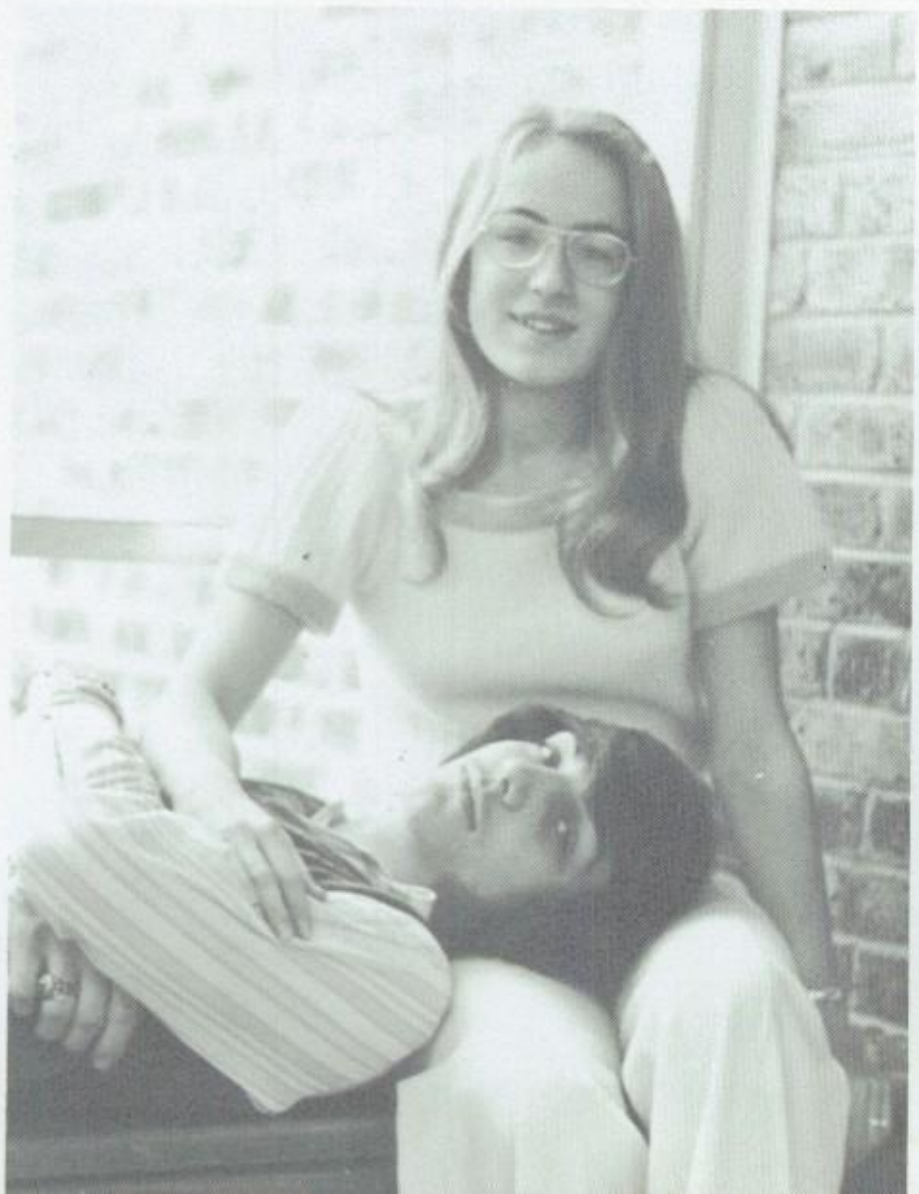
Hard working Dori Erwin and Vern Koehlinger were voted Most Likely to Succeed.

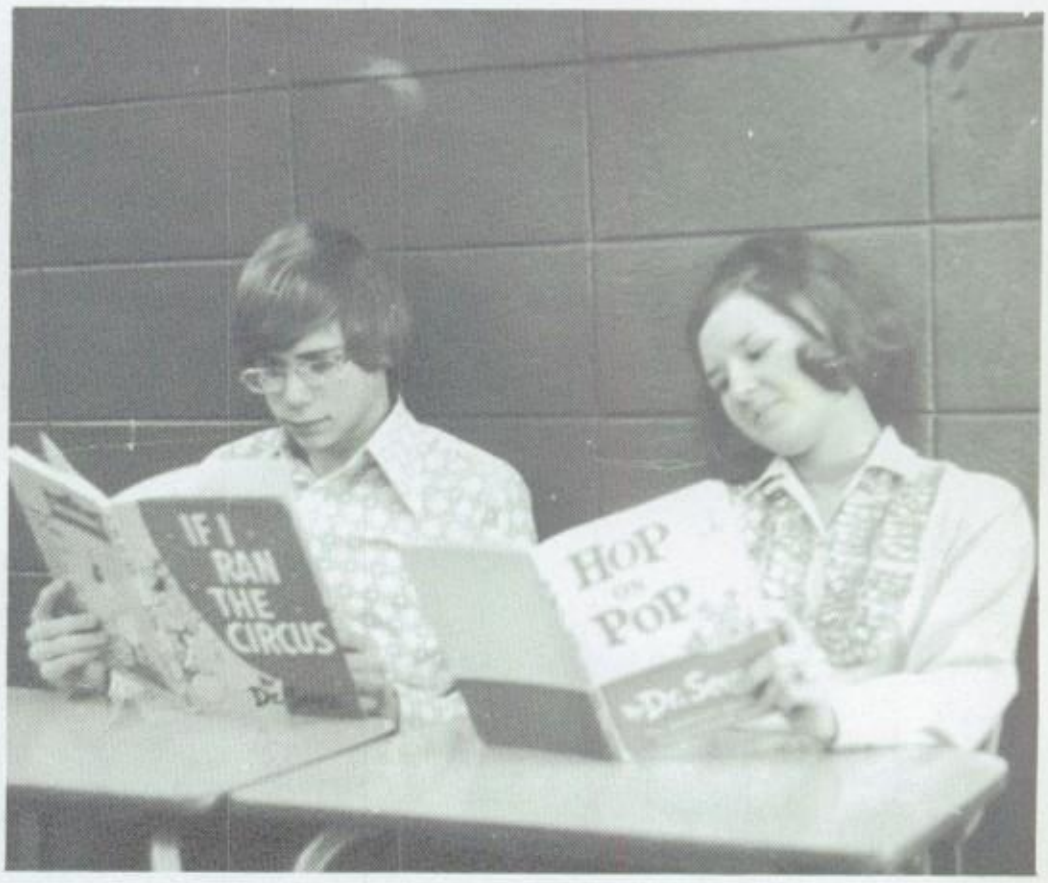
Once again Seniors Pick Class Favorites for 1973!

Always clowning around, Terri Schiffer and Achim Siefert.

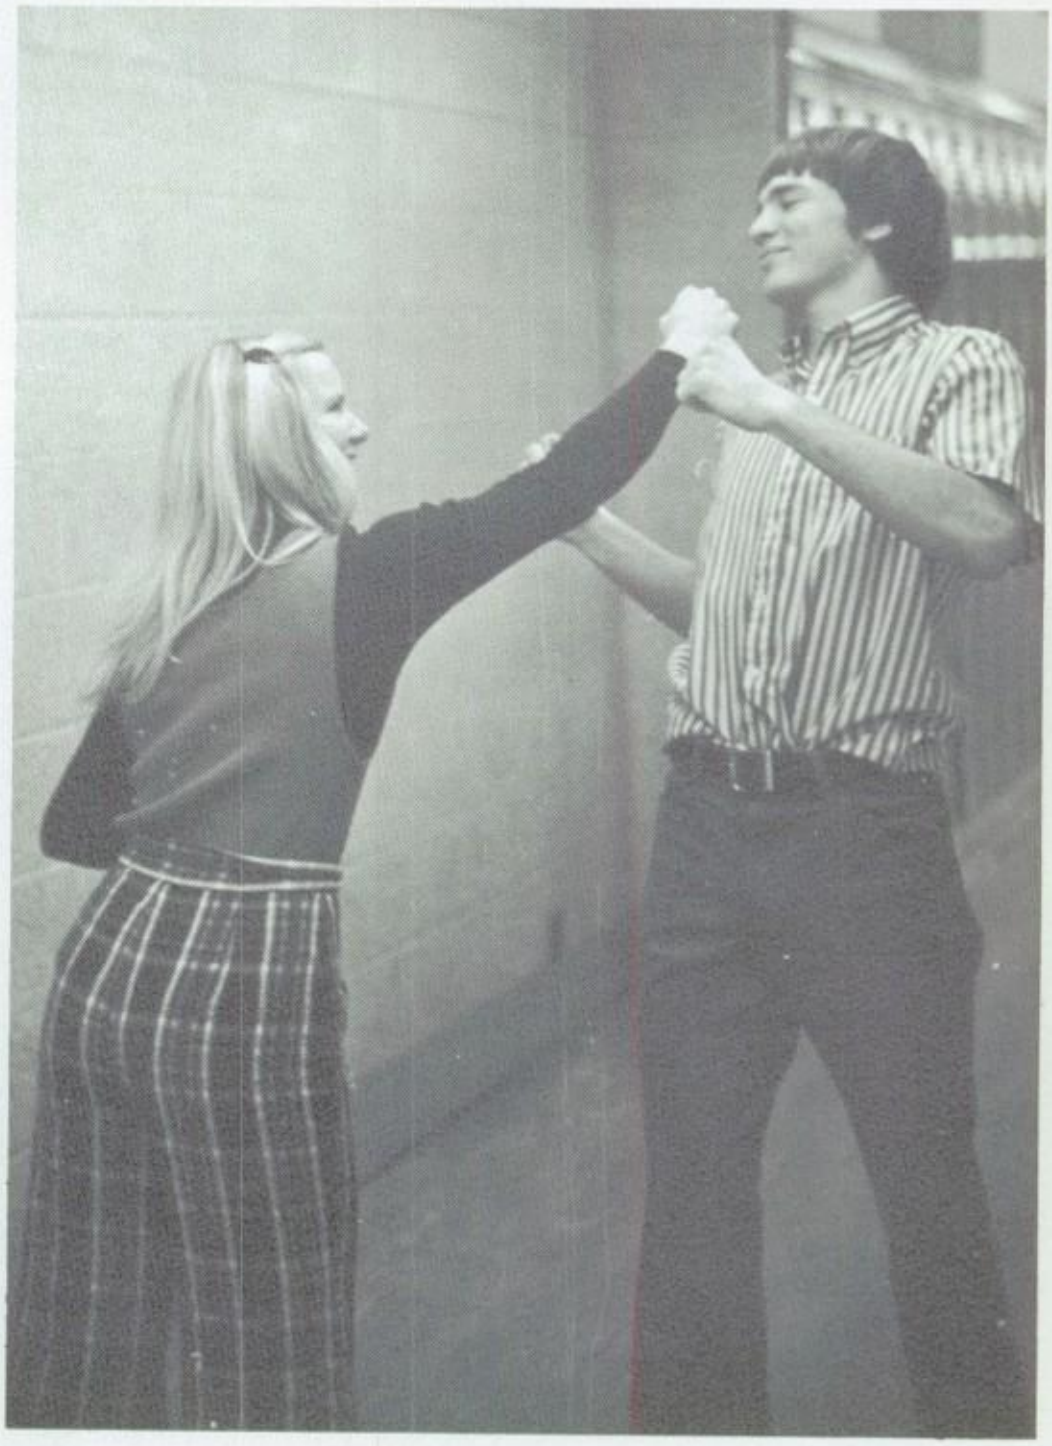
Always cheerful Steve Dent and Sandy Scheumann, Best Personalities.

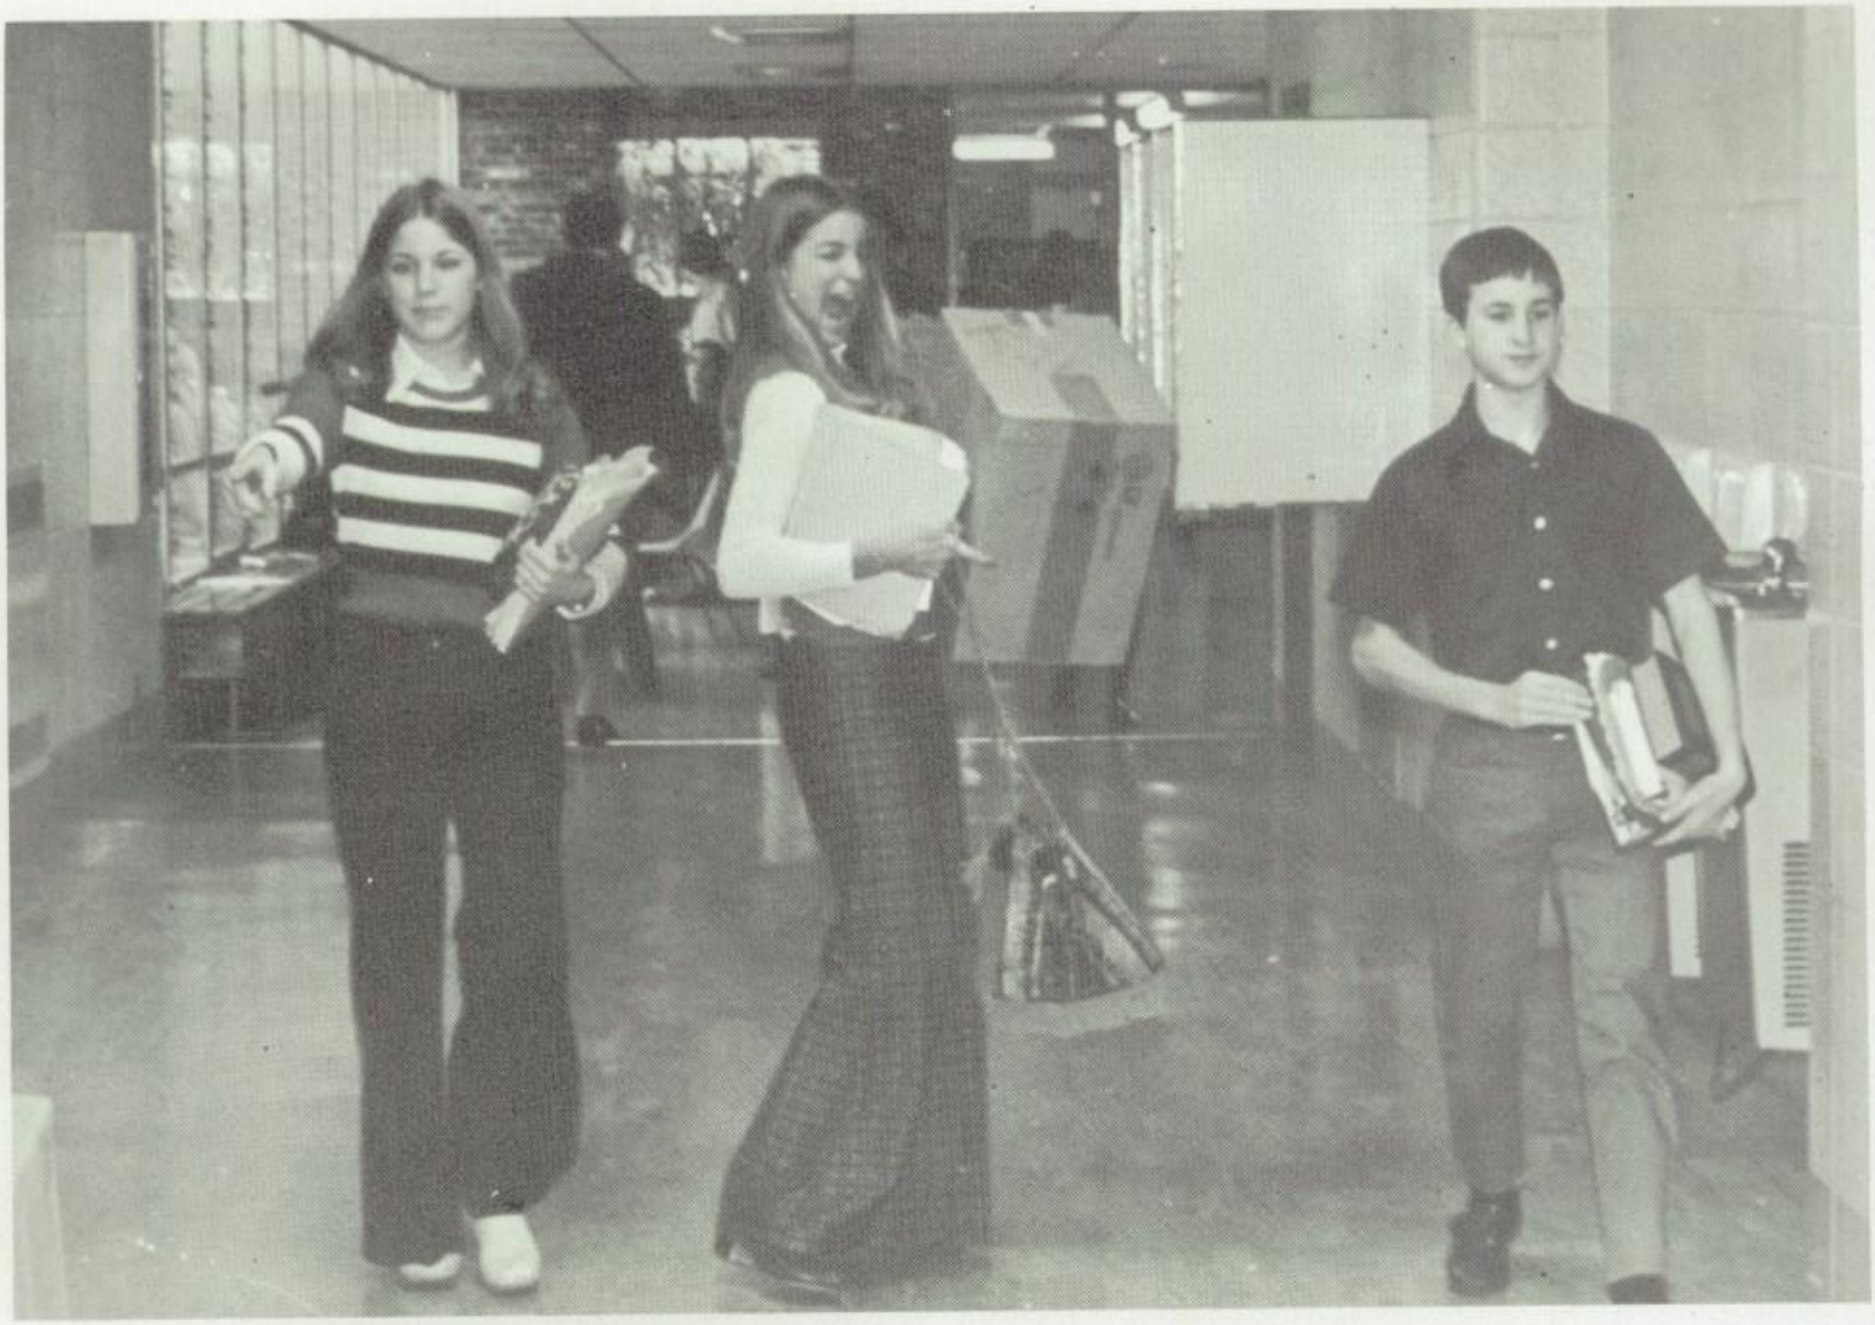
Darrell Nantz and Debbie Lapp were voted Cutest Couple.





Most Scholarly (??) Steve Hermann and Linda Fox.





when looking back
some of the best times to remember are the moments of laughter
the crazy times that only came once then flew away
the times that showed the world how insane a high school student can be the times that will be recalled before any others
for in the innocence of laughter one is stripped of all masks and inhibitions
and unknowingly reaches out to the world about him may I say that I have loved me one or two of the people in my past

. . .fading faces in a waking dream though they never seem to last very long there are faces I remember from the places in my past . . .

sometimes I can laugh or cry and I can't remember why but I still love those good times gone by
. . . hold on close to them or let them go

The beauty of CLHS lies not in the ways that we are alike, but in our freedom to be different. For in our conflicting dreams and ideals we are driven together by a need to have something in common — something binding. We are all driven together by the one common need to find Christ.

Every now and then I feel a need to look back. I just have to turn around and gaze at what I've left behind me, remembering . . . Although I know things will never be the same, I still have to look at the friendships, failures, and fun times that were once so much a part of me. I have to look, because I derive a unique sort of strength from them which enables me to go on boldly toward tomorrow — looking eagerly ahead, yet all the while thanking God for giving me a REMEMBRANCE OF THINGS PAST.

Hats off

Congratulations! Now what. . . .travel, work, service, college or technical school? Regardless of your choice, how far you go in this space age depends partly on your imagination but primarily on your education and training. There's room for everyone in this free enterprise system and whether or not you conquer new horizons depends on how you apply your specialized knowledge, skills, and training. Good luck!

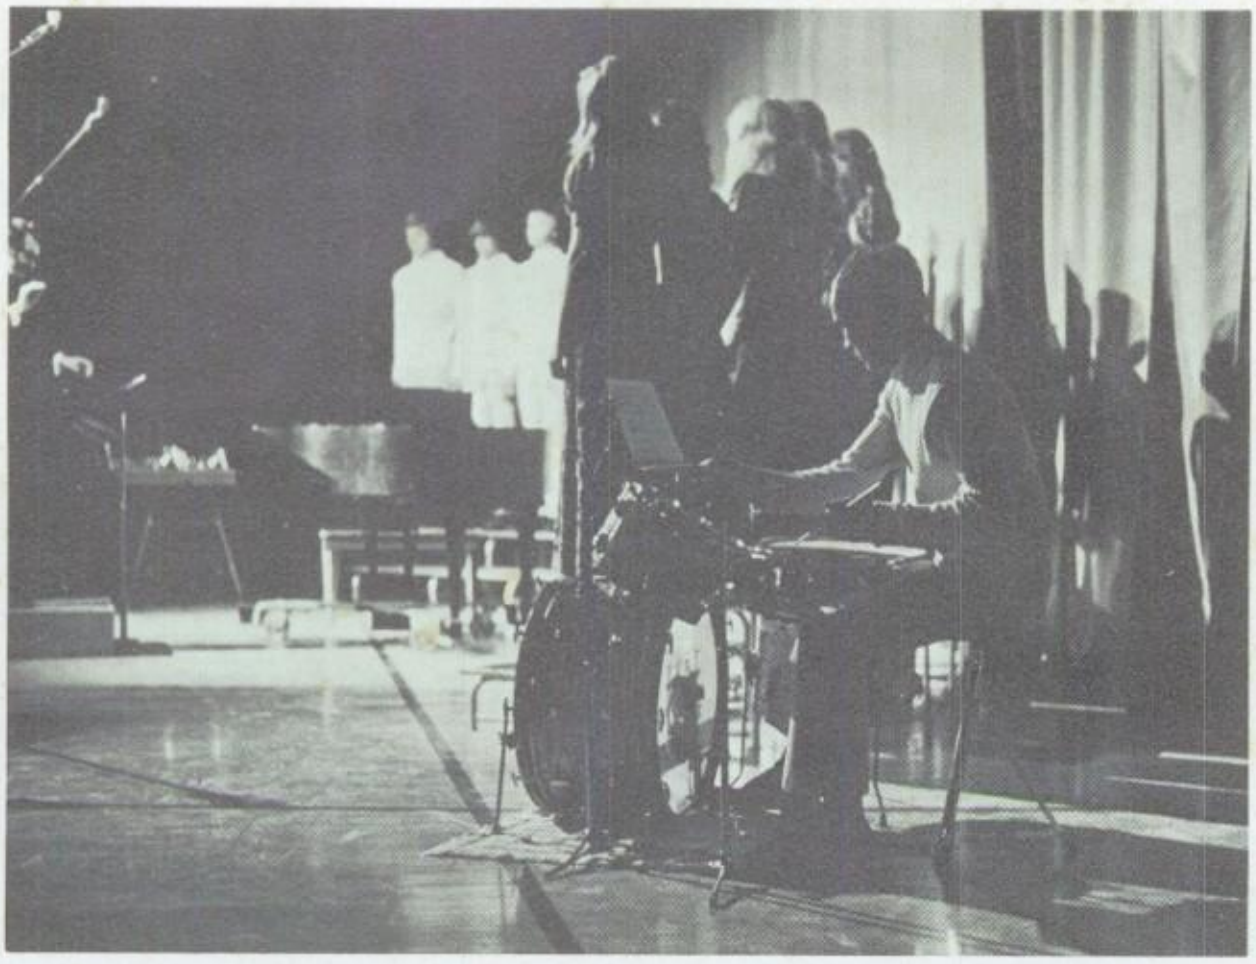
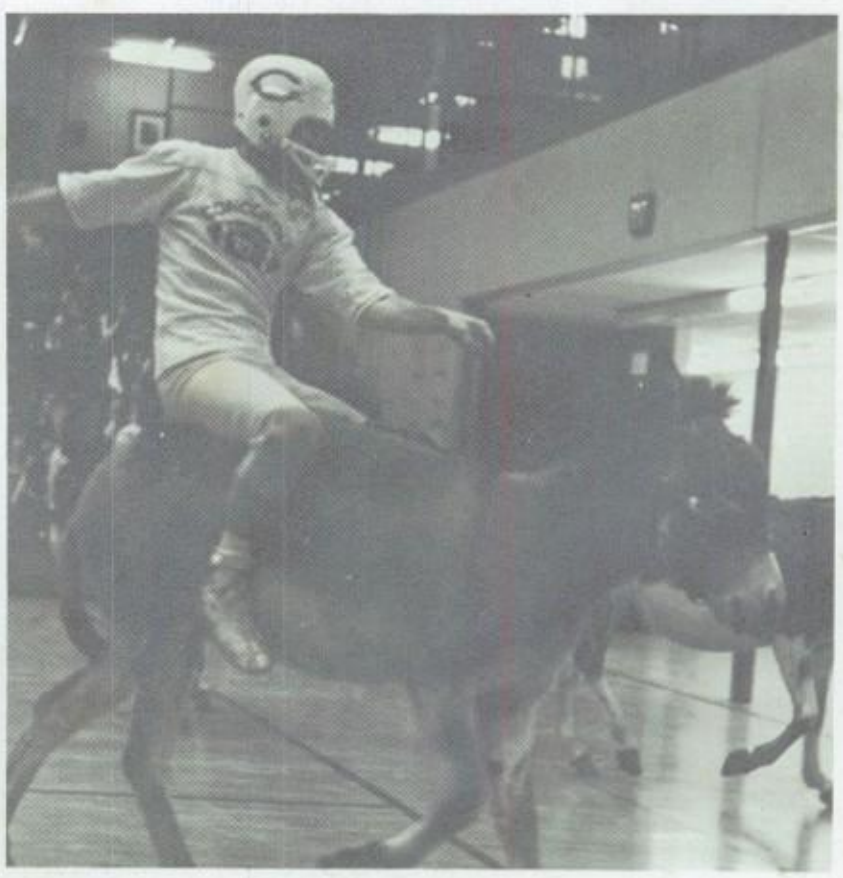
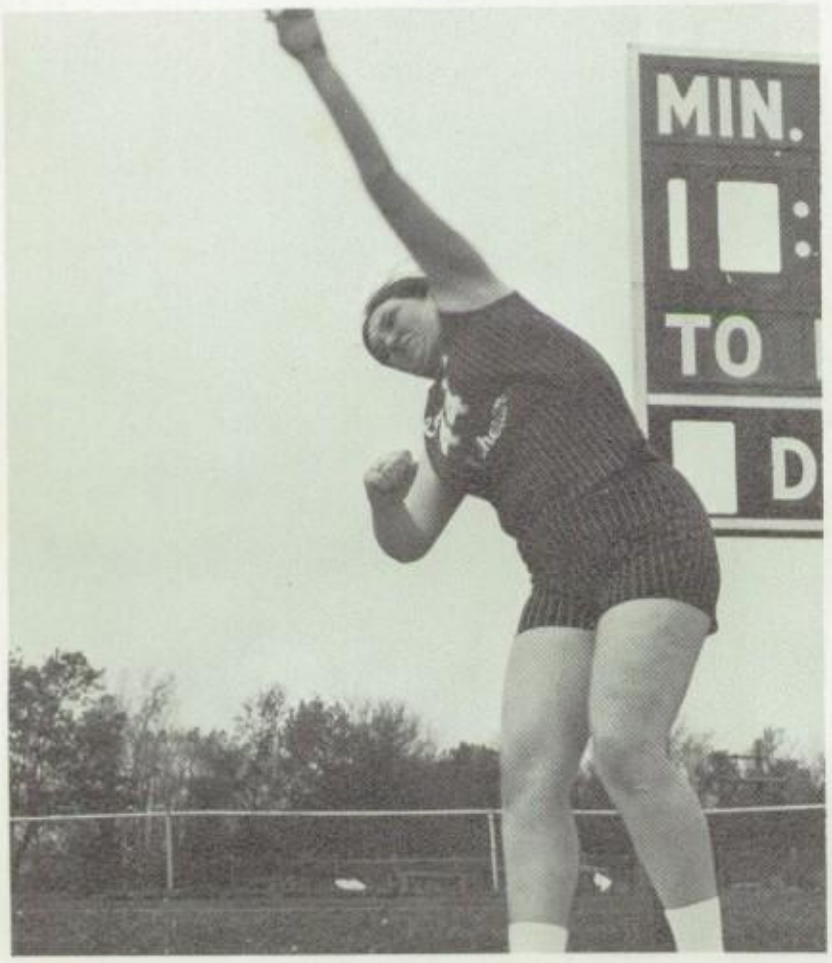
SPRING '73





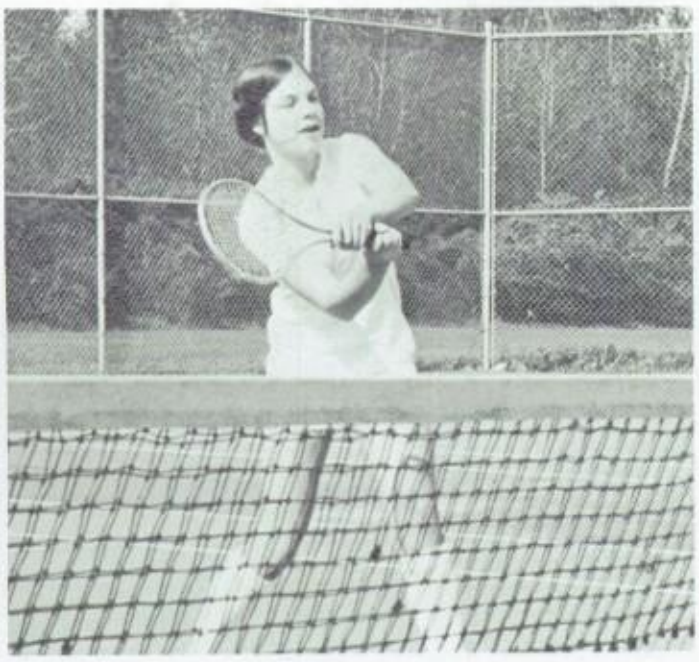
The 1972-73 Girls' Track Team, FRONT ROW, L. to R.: N. Lesauski, M. Bredemeyer, P. NaThalang, L. Wert, B. Bradbury, R. Stuber, C. Nahrwold, K. Wakeland, D. Booker. 2nd ROW, L. to R.: T. Early, D. Buhr, B. Van Dyke, L. Hoffman, L. Blondell, K. Bradbury, C. Croxton, L. White, B. Buuck. 3rd ROW, L. to R.: K. Clark, S. Henschen, C. Goller, J. Groenert, P. Grever, P. Kostoff, L. Uhlig, B. Kruse, J. Ryan.

11 Cadettes Qualify for District Competition



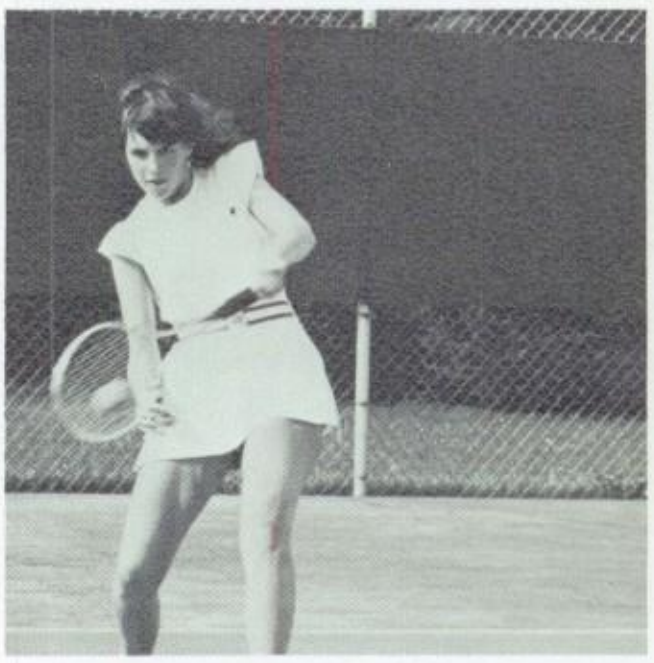
One of the best dressed organizations this year was the girls' track team. But not only did they display their beautiful hard-earned uniforms and warmups, they displayed a great deal of high quality performance. After the completion of an 8-2 season, the girls had set 6 new school records, 3 by sophomore Laurel Uhlig. Although the competition and the level of ability was much greater, the young team showed much improvement over that of last year.

Three's a Charm for Joanne Paul & LeeAnn Berning



If there was any evidence of Women's Liberation at CLHS this year, one could surely find it in the newly formed girls' tennis team. The 14 determined members established their position as athlete's as they also established an unblemished 8-0 record.

The highlight of the season was the capturing of the State Doubles title by the no. 1 and 2 players Lee Ann Berning and Joanne Paul. The duo stunned an Indianapolis team in the finals to gain the honor for the third time in as many years.



The 1972-73 Girls' Tennis Team: FRONT ROW, L. to R.: D. Hans, K. Gerberding, J. Paul, S. Keltsch, L. Berning, K. Krueckeberg, C. Langohr. BACK ROW, L. to R.: B. Breininger, C. Riddle, K. Shugart, K. Lange, R. Kasischke, K. Braunlin.

Business As Usual in Spring '73 As Concordia Fields Winners in Golf, Track, and Baseball

With Mike Berning, one of the area's premier golfers, leading the way, Concordia's golf team swung its way to an excellent 20-3 record. Under Coach Fred Weiss' direction — his second year at the helm — the Cadets displayed great consistency by placing second in both NEIC and sectionals, while capturing third in city and regional competition. Ending a fine year was a trip to the state match which provided excellent experience for the squad members. In the state competition Berning proved himself to be not only one of the best golfers in the area, but also one of the best in the state, as he took second place following a hard-fought play-off. Since Berning and Dave Stelzer are the only losses to graduation, Concordia golf should continue its winning ways — somewhat of a spring tradition at CLHS.

Track proved to be a season of records this year, as no fewer than five Cadet standards were felled enroute to a 9-5 slate. These individual standouts included the following: Ken Strahan (Sr. — 440), Stan Scheumann (Sr. — Discus), Phil Keck (So. — High Jump), and Warren Wilson (Fr. — 2-Mile). Seniors Ken Strahan and Clark Shaughnessey, and sophomores Mark Raabe and Jim Doerhmann also combined to set a new Mile Relay record. The team as a whole showed good balance and consistency as witnessed in events such as its strong first place finish in the New Haven Relays. And, if anything, this season is just a prelude of things to come as both varsity coach Craig Hoffman and reserve coach Otis Howard will have an extremely talented and experienced core of underclassmen to build on next spring.

Coach Jack Massucci's winning ways at the helm of Concordia's baseball program remained intact this season inspite of an extremely poor start. An early season slump painted a glum future for the Cadets but a good second half season brought the team's record to just over .500 at 13-10. This excellent late season play was marked by hustle and good consistent and intelligent baseball. The team's improvement was especially obvious in sectional play as the Cadets moved to the finals before dropping a 9-4 decision to Northrop. Except for a killing first inning in which CLHS was stung for seven big runs, the Cadets might have brought the sectional crown home. With a number of experienced players returning and with the continuing guidance of coaches Anderson and Massucci, Concordia baseball looks to revenge that loss next year.

Frankly
Religion - wasn't so bad, fast ace to assignments. I'm glad
I got to know you and hope
I didn't give you to many gray hairs. Thanks for everything.

Michael C. Scott

Mr. Walker,
Michael C. never could spell the easy words could he? We like him anyway. I'm glad I got to know you, because it helped me grow and realized it. Thanks so much for being a friend these first two years, and maybe we can both manage the next two years. If anyone was the scud, it was yours truly. God bless.
Luv,
Laurel

Mr. walker
your class was always Sun-especially when I visited the art room & gossiped with Kelly, Katy & Sue.
God bless,
Nancy Trier

Mr. Walker,

You are the best religion teacher I have had all year. Hope I'm in one of your classes next year. Have a swell summer!

Gary Geller

Mr. Walker:
To a great T.S.T. teacher, I was personally disappointed that I didn't get you for religion again this year, maybe next year. Can never forget you.
Love
Patty Zdelkey

Mr. Walker
You know we regret talking all the times you yelled at us. (We were) If it does you will forgive us. You are a wonderful person Teacher & good friend as well as a wonderful, Kelly
